'Numbers' Bill Given 2nd Reading

Passage To Depend On Another Meeting With Chances Slim

Council gave the second of three required readings to a stringent anti-gambling ordinance at its last regular meeting of the biennium Monday night, then adjourned without scheduling the customary year-end special session to clean up last-minute business.

The seven retiring members voted unanimously for second reading of the legislation, but split 4-3 on a moton to suspend the rules and enact the ordinance immediately.

The same split was recorded when the legislation first was presented Dec. 7.

Aimed particularly at the numbers racket, the ordinance makes possession of any gambling device prima facie evidence to establish a conviction in Municipal Court. Police Chief Americo Radeschi and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, who proposed the ordinance in mid-November, explained that present ordinances require that numbers writers and their patrons must be caught in the act of exchanging slips and money to assure a conviction.

There's a slim possibility the ordinance may received the required third reading that would make it law before the present councilmen retire Dec. 31. Asked about the possibility of the customary year-end session, President B. E. Warner said he feels a special meeting should be called for some night next week for formal approval of the minutes of last night's session.

However, whether the anti-gambling ordinance would be on the agenda for a special meeting is a question the councilmen would have to decide. Warner pointed out that the president is not authorized by Council rules to call a special meeting. That may be done only by the mayor or three members of Council, the rules provide.

In addition, the business taken up at a special session must be listed on the official "call" of the meeting, which each member must sign.

Because the minutes of last night's meeting concern the seven members who will leave office Dec. 31, only they would have knowledge whether or not the report is correct and can be approved, Warner pointed out.

If the anti-gambling ordinance is not enacted before Dec. 31, it will die automatically at the end of the biennium.

With 4 favorable votes and 3 in opposition, the split means that there are sufficient votes to enact an ordinance at three "separate and distinct meetings," but not enough to suspend the rules and approve it at a single session.

The voting lineup last night was the same as at the meeting Dec. 7.

Ike, Franco See Summit Peace Boost

Agree President's Visit To Moscow To Help Cause Also

By LOUIS NEVIN

MADRID (AP)—President Eisenhower and Generalissimo Francisco Franco agreed today Western talks with the Soviets and the President's visit to Moscow next year will help the cause of peace. But they added "a firm defense posture should be maintained" by the West.

The two chiefs of state after a breakfast conference of two hours and 20 minutes at Franco's Pardo Palace said their conversation strengthened the bonds of cooperation between Spain and the United States.

They issued a joint statement as Eisenhower took off in his big jet airliner for Morocco, the last stop of his 11-nation goodwill tour. His reception in Madrid, the next to last stop, was the greatest ever given a foreign visitor in modern Spain. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty quoted Eisenhower as saying he was completely overwhelmed.

About a million Spaniards roared "Viva Ike" as the President rode through Madrid with Franco, resplendent in his generalissimo's uniform, in cold rain and wind late Monday.

Their communique said Eisenhower had given Franco and members of his government a full briefing on the purposes of his 22,000-mile tour of three continents and the results he hoped to attain.

"The talks, which covered a wide variety of other international matters of interest to both countries, were conducted in an atmosphere of cordiality and understanding," the statement said.

Franco said in toasting Eisenhower at a banquet Monday night Spaniards are well aware "we enjoy the preservation of liberty in Western Europe, without falling under the Communist yoke, (due) to your energy and generosity and those of your country."

Eisenhower, in replying, expressed hope for greater friendship and cooperation between Spain and the United States. He cited the Christmas celebration of the birth of Christ as "the season to rededicate ourselves to these timeless principles for which He gave His life."

Franco told Eisenhower he had won the sympathy and admiration of the Spanish people.

Eisenhower said he would like to have stayed in Madrid "as many days as I have hours." That would be 19 days.

Industry Okays Plan

Separate Parleys Will Open Sunday In Steel Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal mediators plowed ahead today without visible progress while plans sprouted for 93 separate bargaining sessions across the country next Sunday.

Seemingly to the surprise of some unionists, industry negotiators bowed quickly Monday to the demand of United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald for company - by - company negotiations.

This scrambled the bargaining picture. McDonald apparently hoped that by bringing the responsible executives of every big and little steel firm into direct talks, he could crack the industry front which has held almost completely solid for eight months against the union's wage and benefits demands.

There was no immediate sign, however, that any of the smaller companies were ready to offer their local union leaders any more than the industry's top negotiating team has offered McDonald.

Each company has its own contract with the union, even though the bargaining up to now has been on an industry-wide basis.

The continuing deadlock made it almost certain President Eisenhower, returning to the capital tonight after his 11 - nation peace mission, won't get the homecoming present he requested when he left — a signed and sealed steel agreement.

Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan scheduled morning and afternoon meetings today between top union officials and the industry's negotiating team. They met Monday for the first time in 10 days, but reported no progress.

Finnegan said there probably will be more sessions as the week advances—perhaps even next Sunday, while the dozens of home town negotiations are going on.

Both wages and working conditions are at issue. The companies have contended the wage increases demanded by the union would spur inflation. The union, in turn, has rejected company demands for a freer hand in changing work rules to increase efficiency. The workers averaged $3.11 an hour when the strike started last July.

Ike Receives Traditional Arab Gifts

Due To Leave North Africa At Noon For Flight Back To U.S.

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP) — President Eisenhower headed for home tonight, winding up the crusade for friendship and peace in freedom which he carried to 11 nations.

A thunderous acclaim by about 500,000 jubilant Moroccans and a generous send - off capped the President's history - making tour, the most extended foreign trip ever undertaken by an American president.

The 19 - day journey, on which the President was cheered by perhaps nine million welcomers, encompassed visits to Italy, Turkey, Pakistan, Afghanistan, India, Iran, Greece, Tunisia, Spain and Morocco, as well as a Western summit meeting in Paris.

The conclusion of the President's far-ranging venture in personal diplomacy still found him grinning and radiating confidence that he had managed to spread to millions a feeling of trust in the sincerity of American motives and policies. Only time will disclose the long-term effects. But there were many signs of at least a temporary boost to American prestige as a result of the tour.

The President's orange - nosed jetliner headed westward and was due at Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington at 11 p.m. EST, his point of departure Dec. 3. A refueling stop was planned at Gander, Nfld.

The President was received with wild enthusiasm and one of the most colorful welcomes of his three-continent tour when he arrived in this white-walled North African city.

He was fascinated by dashing horsemen, 5,000 strong, who raised their ancient long guns in salute as he rode by in an open car with King Mohammed V past crowds roaring "Yaish Ike" (Long Live Ike)".

Tens of thousands packing United Nations Square cheered as the President grinned and waved in appreciation of the silver tray of dates and the pitcher of milk.

The President, arriving from a whirlwind visit to Madrid where his welcome was similarly enthusiastic, rode through the city in an open car beside King Mohammed V. Both were standing.

Wearing a broad grin, the President waved his hat to the shouting thousands of Moroccans, many in the burnooses and colorful robes characteristic of the country.

The President frequently extended his arms in greeting. When he did so, the crowd seemed almost to go wild with joy. It thundered approval when the Presi-

County Chalks Up 10 Wrecks On Slick Roads

Westfield Woman Hurt In Collision On Route 7 Near Rogers

A Westfield woman was hospitalized as the result of one of 10 traffic mishaps reported throughout Columbiana County Monday by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon which blamed most on snow-slicked roads.

Mrs. Edith H. Ludwig, 59, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with a knee injury and head and shoulder bruises received in the collision on Route 7 about 8 miles south of Rogers at 11:30 a. m. yesterday.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Homer Ludwig, 62, which collided almost head-on with an oncoming car driven by Billy Myers, 23, of Lisbon R. D. 2, who made a left turn in front of Ludwig.

Janice Dunn, 19, of East Palestine R. D. 1 and a passenger in her car — Mrs. Jack Schultz, 19, of 122½ Clark St., East Palestine — were treated by a physician yesterday after a crash on Route 164 about a mile and a half north of Lisbon.

Officers said Miss Dunn slowed because of traffic ahead, and her car was rammed from the rear by one operated by Helen Goerig, 39, of Leetonia R. D. 1. The East Palestine area driver suffered a shoulder injury and her passenger received a neck injury.

The Leetonia driver was charged with failure to halt in the assured clear distance and lack of a driver's license.

Cyrus Thomas, 59, of 414 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, remains in "good" condition today at City Hospital with hip injuries suffered when his car skidded and overturned on the super - road about a half mile south of the city limits yesterday at 8:25 a. m.

Jack Moore, 21, of 105 E. Main St., Salineville, was charged with reckless operation after his car crashed through guardrails on Route 164 about 6 miles south of Lisbon at 11:30 a. m.

William Gbur, 26, of West Point is slated for a hearing in Municipal Court Monday on a charge stemming from a collision on Route 30 about a third of a mile north of the city limits yesterday at 6:15 a. m.

Officers said Gbur, headed south, hit the rear of a car operated by Lois Crawford, 62, of West Point, who had slowed. He was charged

Full Ticket Set By Democrats For May Vote

Democratic leaders indicated today their party will have a full slate of candidates, with contests for most offices, when nominations are made for state, county and district offices at the May 3 primaries.

Most Democratic incumbents already have announced or filed for new terms, but an even larger number of prospective candidates is preparing to put petitions into circulation to seek ballot places. The filing deadline is in February.

The latest incumbents to file are Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, seeking renomination as 18th District Congressman, and County Commissioner R. Max Gard, also seeking return to office.

John Taylor of Salem has announced for state senator is the 20th-22nd District. The party expects to have at least five candidates for two posts as state representative, including Bernard Freeman of Leetonia, Ben Barrett of Salem, a former high school coach; Sam Sowards of Lisbon; John Todd, retiring Lisbon mayor, and Robert Cogan of East Rochester.

John Graham of Wellsville already has filed for county recorder and two more are expected to seek the nomination — Paul Howard of Salem and Larry Finlay of East Liverpool.

Other incumbents preparing to

Council Appropriates $106,787 At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — An appropriation of $106,787 for the first 3 months of 1960 was authorized by Council at a meeting Monday night.

The appropriation, customarily made each year, is some $7,000 higher than the 90-day appropriation of $99,870 in 1959.

The increase is due largely to higher salaries for councilman and for an allotment of $3,500 for a new emergency truck for the fire department, for which bids are being sought.

Last night's session was the last business meeting for Mayor Paul Merwin and councilmen whose terms will expire Dec. 31. A brief session will be held Jan. 4 when the new Council convenes, but present councilmen will only approve minutes of last night's meeting.

Cost Of Living Rose Again In November

Less Than Tenth Of One Per Cent Is Reported For Month

WASHINGTON (AP) Living costs crept upward to another all-time high in November, but the rise was at a slower pace than in other recent months, the government reported today.

Consumer prices advanced less than one-tenth of one per cent to a level 25.6 per cent above the 1947-49 average. A month earlier, prices were 25.5 per cent above the base period.

It was the sixth time in seven months that prices, as measured by the Labor Department's consumer price index, advanced to a new peak.

The November rise was less marked than in September and October, and Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said he looks for relative price stability until next spring.

A continued downtrend in food prices helped check the November rise in the index. The big factors on the upside were increases in charges for services and for durable goods, including new autos.

The November rise in the index will bring pay increases to about 170,000 workers who get cost-of-living increases under union contracts.

Factors affecting the shift in buying power included the return of steelworkers to their jobs, which boosted average hourly earnings, and a drop in the factory work week because of layoffs by makers of autos and other goods affected by a shortage of steel.

GIs In Japan To Give Children Yule Party

NAGOYA, Japan (AP) — U. S. forces played Santa Claus today for more than 5,000 children in this central Japanese city devastated by a typhoon last September.

A caravan of U.S. Army and Navy trucks toured day nurseries and kindergartens, and American servicemen distributed toys and other gifts collected by U.S. servicemen in a "Toys for Tots" campaign throughout Japan.

U.S.-Canadian Rocket Seeks Stars Signals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Canadian and American scientists sent a four-stage rocket into space at Wallops Island, Va., today to record radio signals emanating from the stars.

The complicated rocket incorporated a new X248 engine as its fourth stage, and the experiment also was to test how this worked in the vacuum of space.

The rocket was set to reach a height of 560 miles. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration could not say immediately the exact height the rocket reached, but it apparently "went good." The rocket was in flight for about 18 minutes and came down in the Atlantic about 600 miles from the Virginia coastal island.

Radio signals produced by the stars—scientists call it galactic noise—are partly absorbed by the earth's iohosphere. In order to measure them accurately instruments must be sent above 450 miles.

The rocket's 48-pound payload carried a 3-megacycle radio receiver to collect the star signals. These were telemetered back to earth.

The launching vehicle was made up of an Honest John missile and two Nikes as well as the X248. The whole thing weighed 7,000 pounds at takeoff. NASA called the 48-foot compound vehicle a javelin.

55 Ohio Traffic Deaths Seen Over Holidays

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Highway Patrol estimated today that 55 motorists will die in Ohio traffic accidents over the Christmas and New Year weekends.

Supt. Scott B. Radcliffe warned that traffic offenders will be cited for court in an attempt to keep accidents at a minimum.

Last year, when Christmas and New Year's Day fell on Thursday, traffic fatalities for the two weekends totaled 51. Eleven were killed on Christmas Day.

Director J. Grant Keys of the Highway Safety Department said fatalities this year might exceed those of the 1958 holiday period because of heavier travel.

White Holiday Due With New Snow Likely

Temperature Drops To 16; Roads Still Slippery In Spots

With more snow forecast, vacationing children cheered and skidding motorists groaned as a White Christmas appeared more of a possibility.

Sub-freezing temperatures greeted the first day of winter, which arrived officially at 9:35 a. m. Some light snow is expected Wednesday.

Youngsters home from school took over hillside streets Monday afternoon for sledding as autoists gave up trying to climb some of the slicker grades.

Dam 8 at Newell said the snow, which fell almost continuously until early last night, reached an accumulation of 4 inches in the Ohio Valley with 5 inches or more covering rural sections.

Highways remained slippery in spots but were termed in "pretty good shape" as most of the weary

Court Upholds City Rules For Junk Dealers

Sentence Due Later For Defendant Who Attacked Ordinance

A new ordinance regulating junk yard operations is constitutional because it is "a valid exercise of legislative power," Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw ruled today in the case of a scrap dealer who attacked the legality of the law under which he was arrested.

The court handed down the opinion today in the case of Barry Berman, a partner with his father, Paul Berman, in operation of the Berman Iron and Steel Co. on W. 4th St. Ext. The younger Berman was cited Dec. 3 by Patrolman W. E. McDaniel on a charge of failing to store some scrap "inside a building or enclosed yard." The hearing was held Dec. 9.

In a 6-page opinion, Judge Brokaw quoted the language of the contested ordinance and cited sections of the Ohio Constitution granting governing powers to

New Beaver Coroner Names Two Deputies

BEAVER — Dr. John Colabincenzo, newly-elected Republican coroner, today appointed Dr. Francis Bush of Beaver Falls as his chief deputy and named Mearl G. Bozett of Brighton Township, chief laboratory technician at Rochester General Hospital, as his second deputy.

Dr. Colabincenzo along with other elected officials will be sworn in a mass ceremony at 10 a. m. Jan. 4 at the Courthouse. An informal reception will follow.

Salary To Be Sufficient

Full-Time Duty Promised By Mayor-Elect Goodballet

Mayor-elect Bert H. Goodballet told the retiring Council Monday night he will be able to devote full time to his official duties when he takes office Jan. 1, thanks to a $2,800-a-year boost in salary approved in mid-November.

The incoming mayor spoke as part of a "hail and farewell" session in which seven retiring Republican councilmen and their president said goodbyes and seven of the incoming Democratic officials were introduced.

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence and Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross also said official farewells to the Council members and other city officials and employes.

Thanking Council and the administration for the increase in the mayor's salary, Goodballet commented: "It will be a help to me. It will allow me to devote full time to operating the city."

He also extended an invitation to the retiring officials to "come in and talk to me any time during my term."

"With your experience, you can be of invaluable assistance in the operation of the city," he commented.

Most Activity To Suspend

Long Weekend Scheduled In Christmas Observance

Thanks to a Friday observance of Christmas, many tri-state area residents can look forward to a three-day weekend that will stretch from Thursday afternoon until Monday morning.

Federal, state, county and city offices throughout the area will be closed for the holiday — many of them extending the closing from Thursday noon until Monday morning. Some local industry will suspend for three days and production schedules will be curtailed in other plants.

Virtually all workaday activity will cease Friday, but area law enforcement agencies and fire departments will maintain their usual 24-hour duty shifts.

East Liverpool stores will close at 5 p. m. Thursday, but will be open as usual the day after Christmas.

The Ohio State Employment Service office on Washington St. will be closed on both Christmas and Saturday. Claimants who normally report on Friday have been instructed to report Wednesday, Mrs. Mary Jane Frontone, acting manager, said. The same schedule will be followed on New Year's week, she added.

The Ohio State Liquor Stores in East Liverpool and Wellsville will be open until 9 tonight. Both stores will close at 6 p. m. Christmas Eve, reopening Saturday at

Officers said Miss Dunn slowed because of traffic ahead, and her car was rammed from the rear by one operated by Helen Goerig, 39, of Leetonia R. D. 1. The East Palestine area driver suffered a shoulder injury and her passenger received a neck injury.

The Leetonia driver was charged with failure to halt in the assured clear distance and lack of a driver's license.

Cyrus Thomas, 59, of 414 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, remains in "good" condition today at City Hospital with hip injuries suffered when his car skidded and overturned on the super - road about a half mile south of the city limits yesterday at 8:25 a. m.

Jack Moore, 21, of 105 E. Main St., Salineville, was charged with reckless operation after his car crashed through guardrails on Route 164 about 6 miles south of Lisbon at 11:30 a. m.

William Gbur, 26, of West Point is slated for a hearing in Municipal Court Monday on a charge stemming from a collision on Route 30 about a third of a mile north of the city limits yesterday at 6:15 a. m.

Officers said Gbur, headed south, hit the rear of a car operated by Lois Crawford, 62, of West Point, who had slowed. He was charged

Full Ticket Set By Democrats For May Vote

Democratic leaders indicated today their party will have a full slate of candidates, with contests for most offices, when nominations are made for state, county and district offices at the May 3 primaries.

Most Democratic incumbents already have announced or filed for new terms, but an even larger number of prospective candidates is preparing to put petitions into circulation to seek ballot places. The filing deadline is in February.

The latest incumbents to file are Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, seeking renomination as 18th District Congressman, and County Commissioner R. Max Gard, also seeking return to office.

John Taylor of Salem has announced for state senator is the 20th-22nd District. The party expects to have at least five candidates for two posts as state representative, including Bernard Freeman of Leetonia, Ben Barrett of Salem, a former high school coach; Sam Sowards of Lisbon; John Todd, retiring Lisbon mayor, and Robert Cogan of East Rochester.

John Graham of Wellsville already has filed for county recorder and two more are expected to seek the nomination — Paul Howard of Salem and Larry Finlay of East Liverpool.

Council Appropriates $106,787 At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — An appropriation of $106,787 for the first 3 months of 1960 was authorized by Council at a meeting Monday night.

The appropriation, customarily made each year, is some $7,000 higher than the 90-day appropriation of $99,870 in 1959.

The increase is due largely to higher salaries for councilman and for an allotment of $3,500 for a new emergency truck for the fire department, for which bids are being sought.

Last night's session was the last business meeting for Mayor Paul Merwin and councilmen whose terms will expire Dec. 31. A brief session will be held Jan. 4 when the new Council convenes, but present councilmen will only approve minutes of last night's meeting.

Cost Of Living Rose Again In November

Less Than Tenth Of One Per Cent Is Reported For Month

WASHINGTON (AP) Living costs crept upward to another all-time high in November, but the rise was at a slower pace than in other recent months, the government reported today.

Consumer prices advanced less than one-tenth of one per cent to a level 25.6 per cent above the 1947-49 average. A month earlier, prices were 25.5 per cent above the base period.

It was the sixth time in seven months that prices, as measured by the Labor Department's consumer price index, advanced to a new peak.

The November rise was less marked than in September and October, and Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said he looks for relative price stability until next spring.

A continued downtrend in food prices helped check the November rise in the index. The big factors on the upside were increases in charges for services and for durable goods, including new autos.

The November rise in the index will bring pay increases to about 170,000 workers who get cost-of-living increases under union contracts.

Factors affecting the shift in buying power included the return of steelworkers to their jobs, which boosted average hourly earnings, and a drop in the factory work week because of layoffs by makers of autos and other goods affected by a shortage of steel.

A caravan of U.S. Army and Navy trucks toured day nurseries and kindergartens, and American servicemen distributed toys and other gifts collected by U.S. servicemen in a "Toys for Tots" campaign throughout Japan.

U.S.-Canadian Rocket Seeks Stars Signals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Canadian and American scientists sent a four-stage rocket into space at Wallops Island, Va., today to record radio signals emanating from the stars.

The complicated rocket incorporated a new X248 engine as its fourth stage, and the experiment also was to test how this worked in the vacuum of space.

The rocket was set to reach a height of 560 miles. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration could not say immediately the exact height the rocket reached, but it apparently "went good." The rocket was in flight for about 18 minutes and came down in the Atlantic about 600 miles from the Virginia coastal island.

Radio signals produced by the stars—scientists call it galactic noise—are partly absorbed by the earth's iohosphere. In order to measure them accurately instruments must be sent above 450 miles.

The rocket's 48-pound payload carried a 3-megacycle radio receiver to collect the star signals. These were telemetered back to earth.

The launching vehicle was made up of an Honest John missile and two Nikes as well as the X248. The whole thing weighed 7,000 pounds at takeoff. NASA called the 48-foot compound vehicle a javelin.

55 Ohio Traffic Deaths Seen Over Holidays

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Highway Patrol estimated today that 55 motorists will die in Ohio traffic accidents over the Christmas and New Year weekends.

Supt. Scott B. Radcliffe warned that traffic offenders will be cited for court in an attempt to keep accidents at a minimum.

Last year, when Christmas and New Year's Day fell on Thursday, traffic fatalities for the two weekends totaled 51. Eleven were killed on Christmas Day.

Director J. Grant Keys of the Highway Safety Department said fatalities this year might exceed those of the 1958 holiday period because of heavier travel.

White Holiday Due With New Snow Likely

Temperature Drops To 16; Roads Still Slippery In Spots

With more snow forecast, vacationing children cheered and skidding motorists groaned as a White Christmas appeared more of a possibility.

Sub-freezing temperatures greeted the first day of winter, which arrived officially at 9:35 a. m. Some light snow is expected Wednesday.

Youngsters home from school took over hillside streets Monday afternoon for sledding as autoists gave up trying to climb some of the slicker grades.

Dam 8 at Newell said the snow, which fell almost continuously until early last night, reached an accumulation of 4 inches in the Ohio Valley with 5 inches or more covering rural sections.

Highways remained slippery in spots but were termed in "pretty good shape" as most of the weary

Court Upholds City Rules For Junk Dealers

Sentence Due Later For Defendant Who Attacked Ordinance

A new ordinance regulating junk yard operations is constitutional because it is "a valid exercise of legislative power," Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw ruled today in the case of a scrap dealer who attacked the legality of the law under which he was arrested.

The court handed down the opinion today in the case of Barry Berman, a partner with his father, Paul Berman, in operation of the Berman Iron and Steel Co. on W. 4th St. Ext. The younger Berman was cited Dec. 3 by Patrolman W. E. McDaniel on a charge of failing to store some scrap "inside a building or enclosed yard." The hearing was held Dec. 9.

In a 6-page opinion, Judge Brokaw quoted the language of the contested ordinance and cited sections of the Ohio Constitution granting governing powers to

New Beaver Coroner Names Two Deputies

BEAVER — Dr. John Colabincenzo, newly-elected Republican coroner, today appointed Dr. Francis Bush of Beaver Falls as his chief deputy and named Mearl G. Bozett of Brighton Township, chief laboratory technician at Rochester General Hospital, as his second deputy.

Dr. Colabincenzo along with other elected officials will be sworn in a mass ceremony at 10 a. m. Jan. 4 at the Courthouse. An informal reception will follow.

Salary To Be Sufficient

Mayor-elect Bert H. Goodballet told the retiring Council Monday night he will be able to devote full time to his official duties when he takes office Jan. 1, thanks to a $2,800-a-year boost in salary approved in mid-November.

The incoming mayor spoke as part of a "hail and farewell" session in which seven retiring Republican councilmen and their president said goodbyes and seven of the incoming Democratic officials were introduced.

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence and Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross also said official farewells to the Council members and other city officials and employes.

Thanking Council and the administration for the increase in the mayor's salary, Goodballet commented: "It will be a help to me. It will allow me to devote full time to operating the city."

He also extended an invitation to the retiring officials to "come in and talk to me any time during my term."

"With your experience, you can be of invaluable assistance in the operation of the city," he commented.

The new mayor introduced: Lawrence C. Applegate, auditor-elect; Charles N. Edwards, who will be Council president; John

Long Weekend Scheduled In Christmas Observance

Thanks to a Friday observance of Christmas, many tri-state area residents can look forward to a three-day weekend that will stretch from Thursday afternoon until Monday morning.

Federal, state, county and city offices throughout the area will be closed for the holiday — many of them extending the closing from Thursday noon until Monday morning. Some local industry will suspend for three days and production schedules will be curtailed in other plants.

Virtually all workaday activity will cease Friday, but area law enforcement agencies and fire departments will maintain their usual 24-hour duty shifts.

East Liverpool stores will close at 5 p. m. Thursday, but will be open as usual the day after Christmas.

The Ohio State Employment Service office on Washington St. will be closed on both Christmas and Saturday. Claimants who normally report on Friday have been instructed to report Wednesday, Mrs. Mary Jane Frontone, acting manager, said. The same schedule will be followed on New Year's week, she added.

The Ohio State Liquor Stores in East Liverpool and Wellsville will be open until 9 tonight. Both stores will close at 6 p. m. Christmas Eve, reopening Saturday at

Informal Bids Asked On Old Police Cruiser

Informal bids will be received at City Hall until noon Wednesday, Dec. 30, for sale of a 1958 Plymouth four-door sedan formerly used as a police cruiser, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today.

The auto has been deadlined for months as beyond economical repair. It is stored in the police department garage at City Hall. The Board of Control, comprised of the director and Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, is permitted by law to dispose of city property worth less than $1,000 without the formality of authorization by Council and a legal advertsiement for bids.

Meanwhile, Mike Turk, Inc., of E. 6th and Walnut Sts. is scheduled to make delivery soon of a 1960 Chevrolet four-door sedan which the city purchased recently for use as a cruiser. The auto has been delivered to the agency and is being prepared to be turned over to the city, Ross said.

CROP Contributions In County Total $643

LISBON — Columbiana County's campaign for CROP — Christian Rural Overseas Program — has receipts of $643.61, according to the Rev. Tom Hammerton of the Lisbon Methodist Church, treasurer.

Some sections of the county sent contributions direct to CROP headquarters in Columbus, he said, so a final count of county donations will not be available until later. The county gave $1,700 last year.

Rev. Hammerton said he will receive contributions for another week. The deadline is Dec. 31.

Santa and the ICE KING

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

Synopsis: Santa's attempt to make a match between the Sun Daughter and the Ice King failed miserably. In anger and shame, the Ice King is determined to go back to his castle to grind out more winter.

"Fly with me to the North," said the Ice King.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

"What will we do?" whispered Oonik as the sled flew away. "The Ice King will never stop making winter now."

"We'll make one more try," said Santa. "This one I think will do."

"I didn't know there was such a one!" exclaimed Oonik.

"Oh, yes," said Santa. "She lives at the South Pole where, I have heard, its is colder by far than at our home in the North."

THE ICE KING had buried his head in the polar bear's fur to hide his tears of shame and sorrow at being rejected by the Sun Daughter. As the reindeer sped towards the South Pole it grew colder and colder and the Ice King, thinking they were nearing home, raised his head and shouted gleefully, "I must have left my ice machine going full blast!"

The sled came down before a palace of ice. "What is this?" cried the King. "This isn't my home."

"It is the South Pole," replied Santa. "The Ice Queen lives here. I have brought you to ask for her hand."

"Never!" roared the king. "I told you I would never humble myself again. Everyone hates me and I hate everyone and that's the end of that." And he threw himself down beside the plar bear and refused to budget an inch.

Now the Ice Queen's palace was just like the Ice King's castle. Everything was made of ice and far above Santa could hear the same grinding, clattering noise he had heard at the King's home.

But this was as it should be for at the South Pole winter always came in June and July and August and when December, January and February came, the ice Queen would stop her work for it would be summertime in her upside down world.

Santa had to holler to make himself heard over the noise. "I've brought you a suitor!" he bellowed.

The Ice Queen stopped pounding and pumping. She turned and stared at Santa. She was tall and regal looking and she too had icicles in her hair and frost on her eyebrows.

"A suitor?" she exclaimed blushing. "What nonsense! Who would ever want to marry me?"

"He's in my sled," said Santa. "Come and see."

PICKING UP her icy skirts the Ice Queen rushed down the stairs and out to the sled. There was the Ice King sitting there with his back to her staring at his feet.

The Ice King raised his sullen eyes and when he saw her his heart turned over. He got out of the sled and took one step towards the Queen and then they both gulped and cried out, "Oh, would you marry me?"

They fell in each other's arms and Oonik jumped up and down with joy and Keotuk barked and even the polar bear looked pleased.

Then the Ice King said, "Fly with me now to my castle in the North."

But the Queen said, "I can't do that for it is wintertime at the South Pole and I must keep things cold."

Santa burst into laughtef. He laughed until the tears rolled down his cheeks.

"What is so funny?" demanded the Ice King.

"You!" cried Santa. "You've forgotten — it's August! It should be summer in the North and you're not needed or wanted there at all!

Not Talking Becomes A Crime

Whittling out a legal precedent against the diehard opposition of other lawyers with other knives to sharpen and other precedents to whittle is not easy.

But it is the way a government of law evolves from imagination to practice. No one can overestimate the importance of the precedent whittled out when the U.S. Department of Justice persuaded a federal grand jury in New York City to reach a verdict of guilty against 20 defendants charged with a conspiracy of silence.

All the defendants were suspected of having underworld connections that had caused them to assemble, along with dozens of others, at the country home of the late Joseph Barbara near Apalachin, N.Y., on Nov. 14, 1957.

Their accounts of why they were there were so absurd it was obvious they were concealing the real reason. This became the basis for the Department of Justice's attempt to establish the legal precedent that not talking can be a crime of it amounts to a conspiracy to conceal evidence.

Since it is a crime punishable by death in the underworld to talk out of turn and a crime that may be punishable by long imprisonment and heavy fines to talk in turn, a criminal would be hung up by the thumbs every time he was asked a question.

The government, if it is doing its job, always knows who the prime suspects are in criminal activities. Its handicap always has been lack of evidence against the suspects. With this new precedent, it could shift its handicap to the shoulders of the suspects by asking them to tell what they know. If they knew something and refused to divulge it, they would be in trouble.

A precedent of this importance will be fought tooth and nail by legalists. But other legalists will fight equally hard to set it up. That is the way it is supposed to be under a government of law.

The law reflects what the people who live under it have agreed on as public policy. In the United States, in the middle of the 20th century, public policy is turning against defendants who frustrate law by refusing to tell what they know about conspiracies against law.

A Billion Dollars

In the toting up of U.S. money invested in economic aid, Spain was ticked off at $1,100,000,000 dollars when the books were closed on the 1958-1959 fiscal year last June 30.

In addition to this, an additional 363 million dollars had been spent for military aid to Spanish military forces. For the current fiscal year, U.S. aid to Spain, including technical cooperation and defense support, is programmed for 41 million dollars.

This was the financial background for President Eisenhower's inclusion of a visit to Spain during his tour. It was the least popular point of call on the itinerary. The Franco regime in Spain has been a sore point in U.S. foreign policy.

The United States supported a motion at the San Francisco conference on the United Nations Charter in 1945 to bar from membership any regime that had been affiliated with enemies of the allies of World War II. In 1946, the United States supported a resolution calling on U.N. members to withdraw their heads of diplomatic missions from Madrid.

The issue in that now distant time was whether or not Franco's dictatorship, which had come to power with the aid of Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy, could be trusted to cooperate with governments that had fought Germany and Italy in World War II. Spain was officially neutral in World War II.

Spain finally was admitted to the United Nations in 1955, and France now is agitating for its admission to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The U.S. Congress called upon President Eisenhower in a concurrent resolution in 1957 to do everything possible to bring Spain into the NATO fold; both chambers previously had adopted similar resolutions. Political pressure in Spain's behalf has been overwhelming.

In 1950, the United States appointed its first post-World War II ambassador to Spain. In 1953, a deal for U.S. bases and extension of military and economic aid was signed. The facts make clear what emotion has obscured—that Spain belonged on President Eisenhower's itinerary as much as any other place he visited. A billion dollars plus cannot be disregarded.

A Standard Portion Of Porridge

There is a strong temptation to make cute comments about a proposal to unionize professional athletes. The proposer is Jack (Doc) Kearns, 78-year-old manager of prizefighters, with thousands of friends and acquaintances in play-for-pay sports.

As he describes his purpose, it is solely to make certain that the athletes who entertain the public professionally should get a standard portion of porridge when the bowls are being filled.

Kearns disclaims any personal reason for asking James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, to help organize a union for athletes; he says it's only the organizing ability of Hoffa's union that he is interested in. There are more than a million potential members. Getting them together would be no job for amateurs.

Opposition to the idea is going to be strong. The first thought that comes to mind is the high pay earned by top-flight professional athletes — the Ted Williamses of baseball, the Frank Giffords and Jimmy Browns of football, the star skaters in ice shows, the successful coaches and the drawing cards.

A second thought is more realistic. For every high-salaried performer with enough bargaining power to get a cut of the gate or a bonus for stellar performance, there are hundreds of mediocrities scrambling for peanuts.

A third thought is about the theater, which once was a fly-by-night entertainment enterprize whose performers could be stranded without a thought to their plight and rarely had a chance to clean up when they were in a hit. Today, the theater guarantees all its employes a minimum scale of living, whether the show is a hit or not. They no longer share the risk of promotion without sharing the fruits of success. Despite charges that the theater has been over-unionized theater people can agree that unionization was necessary.

Kearns thinks this also is true of professional athletics—and only a superficial viewpoint will see anything humorous about his idea. Unions in the United States are just as integral a part of the free enterprise system as enterprisers who put up money in the hope of profit. If professional sports enterprises do not need unionism, they will have to prove that their employes don't need it either.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Are you all set for Santa Claus?" we asked Skeptical Sammy, the kid who misses no 'westerns.' "Who?" he asked.

"Paladin?" he inquired.

"No. The fellow who gets millions of letters, is always smiling no matter how tough the situation and never fails to triumph over all obstacles?"

"Wyatt Earp," Sammy snapped.

"Think hard. Who is the hero who fears nothing, gallops around at terrific speed and is never stopped by floods, washouts, sharp curves around the mountain or blown-up bridges?"

"You're thinking of John Payne," said the lad.

"Now listen," we argued. "Who does the impossible year after year?"

"It's James Arness or Dale Robertson," was the answer.

It was pretty exasperating but we continued. "Concentrate, please. Who makes glad the heart of children everywhere with his perilous travels over long and dangerous trails, alone but fearlessly carrying out what he sets out to do in the nick of time?"

Sammy's eyes brightened. "You're talking about Wagon Train," he smiled.

We decided on one more try. "You've heard of Scrooge, the scheming money-mad villain who hates children, robs his own partners and is nice to nobody, haven't you?" we asked.

"The name is familiar but I don't recall the program," said Sammy. "Now then who is the famous man who cuts Scrooge off at the crossroads, shows him up as a no-good stinker and leaves him in such shape that he reforms and becomes a big-hearted fellow who gives candy canes to kids?"

"Oh, that cane fellow! Bat Masterson," said Sammy with finality.

Vote For One!

1959 Labor Picture Not All Strife

By Victor Riesel

God rest you merry, gentlemen. Let nothing you dismay. Despite what you think it's a more peaceful day than the turbulent strike news would have it appear. If this be Pollyannaish, then make the most of it. This is the season for good spirits—so take comfort that despite the expiration of some 80,000 union-industry contracts 99 per cent of them were settled peacefully. No strikes, no lockouts, no hits by rocks—verbal or geologic.

Victor Riesel

Lest some of these rocks be heaved at me for too much holiday cheer, I turn swiftly to my good friend, Gordon Cole. He is editor of the influential "Machinist," newspaper of the tool makers and astronautical workers without whom this nation couldn't produce a bottle opener, much less a jet.

COLE, whose lankiness makes him more the cowboy in appearance than Santa Claus, has something kind to say for the employers of the nation in his labor newspaper. To wit:

"Collective bargaining has been 99 per cent peaceful—despite the strikes we read and hear about. Perhaps a day may come in American industry when collective bargaining can be 100 per cent peaceful, when management and labor will always agree on how to divide up the pie. Then there will be no strikes and lockouts. . . .

"That we have not been able to achieve our goal indicates that labor and management representatives are human beings. It is not any reflection on the system of collective bargaining.

"There are those who are saying that government interference would make the system better than 99 per cent perfect. There's always the chance, of course, that bureaucracy could really foul things up.

"Successful collective bargaining this year represents the joint effort of both labor and industry, of responsible union members and responsible management. This year, especially, we want to say a hearty 'Merry Christmas' to all good bosses. May your New Year be prosperous."

There were 3,525 strikes or lockouts in the first 10 months of '59 —an increase of only 5 per cent over the average tussles in similar periods during the past 10 years.

THERE IS ONE FIGURE which dampens our spirits a bit. This is the fact that 62½ million men days of work were lost in strikes during the first 10 months. The steel strike did that. Bitter as this was for the companies and the men who took themselves off the payrolls, the figure still represents less than 1 per cent of all the men days worked by all who earn a living. Furthermore, some of the pay lost is now being made up in overtime.

These are the figures which will be on President Eisenhower's desk when he returns and must make a decision on what power to ask for in major labor crises. Like the "Machinist," President Eisenhower believes that government interference could snafu labor relations.

So since this is the season for predictions, here is an educated guess on what the President will do next year IF there is no new steel strike:

Mr. Eisenhower will not ask for any new strike settling powers either in his State of the Union message on which he is now working or in his special labor message to Congress late in January.

He will have as little as possible to do with a summit session of labor and management leaders.

IN AUSTERE neutrality, he will encourage both sides to meet but out of Washington and under the auspices of some university, foundation or institute.

He will fight off any suggestions by any of his cabinet members that the White House sponsor such a labor-management summit parley. He will send a message to the opening session if it is ever held. Or if convenient, he will make a welcoming speech in which he will say strongly, work it out among yourselves but don't hurt the public doing it.

Mr. Eisenhower doesn't want to become anybody's business agent or industrial engineer. The policy of his government is to govern. The duty of labor leaders and management executives is to settle their own quarrels peacefully and in the future make it a Merry Christmas for all.

A Virginia Plan

By Raymond Moley

A suspended calm prevails across Virginia as the New Year approaches, which contrasts sharply with the prolonged agitation, the painful and constant litigation that followed the 1954 Supreme Court segregation decision.

The state, under Gov. Almont, has capitulated before the federal courts. A measure of integration has taken place in the public schools in Alexandria, Arlington, Charlottesville, Front Royal and Norfolk.

Segregation still exists, so far unchallenged, in most other parts of the state and only in rural Prince Edward County are the public schools closed.

But Virginians have responded to what they consider an unconstitutional encroachment on state's rights, a usurpation of endowed judicial power. They have carried their cause to a principle older than the Supreme Court or the Republic itself — the principle of private responsibility at the local level.

This is evident in a revival of local initiative and responsibility. It is manifested in the development of a new kind of school — the "independent" school.

ADMINISTERED by neither the state nor its subdivisions, independent schools are, in effect, foundations — endowed institutions of elementary and secondary education.

There, the Charlottesville Educational Foundation was incorporated in the summer of 1958 in anticipation of the closing of Charlottesville' public schools, which occurred in September and ended in February 1959.

Initially, the foundation operated the Robert E. Lee School for white elementary pupils and assisted the "parents group" in educating 900 white high school pupils.

In mid-February racial integration came to Charlottesville public schools. There is Lane High School, with 743 white and 3 Negro students, and Venable Elementary School, with 450 white and 9 Negro children.

The ulta-modern Jackson P. Burley High School and the Negro elementary school are wholly Negro and equal, so far as it is possible, to Lane and Venable.

Negro teachers' salaries are on a par with those of white teachers and the Negro schools are more up to date.

The Charlottesville Educational Foundation resolved to continue its operation permanently. Funds were raised, land purchased, modern buildings constructed and equipped for the Rockhill Academy and the Robert E. Lee School. An eminently qualified staff was engaged.

Rockhill Academy's 320 pupils and the Robert E. Lee School's 190 received instruction shorn of progressive "frills." Although the schools have not applied for assistance available under the National Defense Education Act, they are provided with the best in modern science - teaching equipment. They have a pupil-teacher ratio of 25-1, appreciably better than the national average.

ONE THING that has made these non-profit independent schools possible has been Virginia's state tuition grants, payable to white and Negro parents who request them for sending their children to private schools. They amount to the state's estimated per-pupil share of public school financing.

Should these grants be challenged, it is expected that they will be held constitutional, since the public schools are open and integrated and the grants merely contribute to the freedom of choice of the citizens of Virginia.

It is noteworthy that integration has taken place in Charlottesville's large elementary and high schools without the blemish of "incidents."

This is not surprising, considering the calibre of the Virginia character. But in the hard transition the existence and promise of this new plan in Virginia have undoubtedly had a most beneficial influence.

Time Of The Big Switch

By James Marlow

Foreign Affairs Take On A Human Touch

WASHINGTON

The year 1960 should become known as the time of the big switch — when foreign affairs became a little more human and a little less snarled in what is called diplomacy.

Western leaders—brushing aside the ancient tradition of letting foreign ministers dicker and deal and diddle on details—have proposed not one but a series of summit conferences with the Soviet Union.

Even if they don't accomplish much, or anything, at least they will be brief and direct and save the world from that gruesome frustration of the long-drawn-out hairsplitting, minuet - dancing of the ministers.

Many forces — both men and events—have brought the West to this startling development in world affairs.

The wartime meetings of President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill—occasionally with Joseph Stalin—broke for a while the old reliance on foreign ministers to find the answers.

The tradition took over again after 1945 when the cold war set in and the sullen, inscrutable Stalin poked for weak spots in the West: pressure on Greece and Turkey, Communist seizure of Czechoslovakia, the Berlin blockade, Korea.

The years between 1945 and Stalin's death on March 5, 1953, were hardly a time for talking peace. He seemed to want no peace. The foreign ministers never solved a major East-West problem.

Ministers began to seem out of date in this new age when the new planes could take the top men anywhere in a few hours and there was less and less reason for them to stay at home. It took them a long time to realize it.

Shortly after he took office, on Feb. 25, 1953, President Eisenhower was asked at a news conference whether he would be willing to meet with Stalin. He said he would, if he thought it could do good.

Nevertheless his underlying feeling about meeting the Soviets then and for years afterwards, was extremely cautious, and hedged around with requirements that preliminary conditions be met. This was also the attitude of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Eisenhower's chief foreign policy adviser.

On March 2, 1953, Churchill said he would be willing to meet with Stalin and Eisenhower. Three days later Stalin died. A transformation began. His successors began talking of peace.

But perhaps more impressive than that was the fact that the Soviet Union began to show astonishing power—with the hydrogen bomb, missiles, and Sputniks.

The nuclear development in the United States and the U.S.S.R.—with all that it meant in devastation if war came—began to make all other wars look as simple as the Fourth of July. It increased the reasons why the West and the Soviet Union should try to find some settlements.

While Churchill was willing to go to the summit without assurances it would produce agreements and even with an agenda —prior agreement by both sides on what should be discussed—Dulles took a different line. So did Eisenhower.

They wanted the Soviets to show by deeds a meeting would be worthwhile. Time passed. The war in Korea ended, at least in armistice. The U.S.S.R. let Austria have freedom. The Soviets kept talking peace.

On May 11, 1953, two months after Stalin's death, Churchill called for a summit conference. This government was cool, laid down its condition of deeds, not words. Time passed and with it enough talk on this subject to fill a book.

Finally, on March 20, 1955 Sen. Walter F. George (D - Ga), now dead but then chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, suggested it was time for a summit conference. This was a big nudge to Eisenhower.

Soon the United States, Britain and France proposed a summit meeting to the Soviet Union. It was held in July 1955. Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Nakita Khrushchev, and later Khrushchev by himself, repeatedly called for the West on Berlin.

He argued: Letting foreign ministers meet is a waste of time; only the heavyweights can settle anything. British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan visited Khrushchev early this year, came away convinced a series of summit meetings is needed.

Eisenhower didn't buy until Khrushchev visited him in September. Now Eisenhower goes along on the series, too, without an agenda or prior conditions.

The Ghosts Of Christmas

By Truman Twill

You wonder sometimes when the Christmas card chore has been polished off again how it would seem if it were tackled in August, instead.

When it's the season to be jolly by golly and holly rhymes with folly, all things have a tendency to seem possible, even the ones that aren't. It's the only thing that keeps the Christmas card routine going.

If someone proposed in August, at the height of dog days, that it would be a good idea to steal time from a crowded schedule of busyness and send that many missives to that many people, the proposer would be hustled to the hospital for a saliva test.

But in December, it seems to make a certain amount of sense to do this, even though it entails checking on addresses and recalling details that never would arise in any other circumstances.

There's always the problem of what to do with the ghosts of Christmas.

They walk at no other time of the year. Their Yuletide ho-ho has a hollow ring. There is a rustle of dried holly when they appear.

They are the unknowns who come out of nowhere to show up on the Christmas card list. "Who is Sylvia Smanski?" someone asks, while licking a stamp. "Sylvia who?" "S-m-a-ns-k-i," is the patient reply.

"She must be one of your pals."

"I positively do not know anyone named Sylvia or anyone named Smanski."

"That's your story, huh? How long have you been keeping this from me?"

"What?"

"This affair."

"I never have loved anyone named Sylvia. I have an aversion to people named Smanski. I avoid not only people named Smanski but people who know people named Smanski."

"Where does this strumpet live?"

"It says here she lives in E. Rochester, Minn."

"She must have moved there recently. She used to live here."

"Who?"

"Sylvia, who else?"

"Then she is one of your friends after all."

"I didn't say that. I only said she must have moved. You never would have been able to get in touch with a babe who lived in Minnesota."

"That's what you think. Let's get back to the point. Who is she?"

"Damfino."

"Damfino, either. Shall I waste a stamp?"

"Why not? She isn't the only ghost on this list. If you ask me it needs to be pruned."

"You say that every year."

"It's true every year. The thing is full of ghosts—old girl friends of yours who come back to haunt me in my old age."

"By the way, Mrs. Whistler, who is Ronald Rutspiegel of Boating on Hudson, New York?"

"Oh him! Tear up the card. He died last September. One of the girls told me at bridge club. I just remembered. He never married, you know, not that it mattered, but you understand how it is. A girl likes to have something in reserve when she is married to a Lothario capable of taking up with people named Sylvia Smanski. Humph."

Skidding Car Rams Rear Of Stopped Bus

No one was injured when a halted bus was struck in the rear by a skidding auto shortly before noon Monday on St. Clair Ave., police said. It was one of five mishaps blamed on slippery streets yesterday.

Police were told the Inter-City Transit Co. bus driven by Milton Baker, 52, of 938 Lisbon St. had stopped at St. Clair and Garner Aves. when it was hit in the left rear by a car driven by Joseph B. Roger, 20, of R. D. 2.

Roger told officers he was headed toward East Liverpool about 10 miles an hour and about 100 feet behind the bus when it stopped. He said he applied his brakes but the brakes locked the right front of his auto struck the left rear of the bus.

Baker said none of his passengers, including five adults and several children, was injured.

There was extensive damage to the front end of the 1954 convertible owned by E. D. Wain, also of R. D. 2, police said. The bus was not damaged, they added.

A 1956 sedan driven by Dale Thompson, 305 Walnut St., received heavy damage to the front end in a mishap on the River Rd. about 10:30 a. m. yesterday, police said.

Thompson said he was headed east about 20 miles an hour when his car started to skid, went to the left side of the road and struck a utility pole and came to a halt in a ditch.

A crash at 9:30 a. m. at Anderson Blvd. and Park Way involved a sedan driven by Charles C. Rippeth, 38, of 1071 Pope Ave. and an Ohio Bell Telephone Co. truck operated by Paul N. Burns, 32, of 746 Minerva St.

Both drivers agreed that Rippeth, headed north, was stopped for the traffic light when the eastbound truck came through the intersection on a green light and slid into the car, damaging the left front fender and grille, police said. There was no damage to the truck.

A skid also was blamed for a collision at Pennsylvania Ave. and Walters St. at 3 p. m. Monday that damaged an auto and a Post Office truck.

Police said there was heavy damage to the right side of a 1952 sedan driven by Earl W. Flowers, 43, of 317 E. 3rd St., which was struck by a postal truck operated by Earl L. Davis, 38, of 722 Edwards Ave. The bumper and right front fender of the government truck were damaged, officers said.

Flowers told police he was traveling west on Pennsylvania Ave. when the Post Office truck, emerging from Walters St., hit his car. Davis blamed the mishap on a skid.

In a collision on 1st Ave. near Pennsylvania Ave. at 10 a. m. yesterday, a parked 1955 sedan owned by Gazel McComas, 1015 Pennsylvania Ave., was struck by a car driven by Pauline Taylor, 500 Central Ave., officers said.

Rochester Man Named City Railroad Agent

Robert J. Marshall has been appointed East Liverpool agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad, according to announcement by C. R. Brenneman, superintendent of statios for the Pennsy's Pittsburgh Region.

He succeeds Thomas R. Streicher, who has been promoted to regional headquarters as assistant office manager in the Freight Traffic Department at Pittsburgh. Streicher was local agent since October 1957.

Marshall comes to East Liverpool from Rochester, where he served as agent since August 1955. He entered the Pennsy's service in May 1941 and served in the Beaver Falls - Rochester area until his appointment as agent at East Palestine in January 1952. He served in a temporary capacity at tructrain supervisor in Pittsburgh from November 1954 until his assignment at Rochester in 1955.

Al Monac, assistant chief, headed the committee. Firemen will meet Jan. 12.

Council Gives Numbers Ban 2nd Reading

appeared to urge enactment of the ordinance. The association also supported the legislation at the meeting Dec. 7.

Webber read a six-page statement explaining his position in voting against the ordinance, but none of the other members commeted.

John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ and secretary of the Ministerial Association, acted as spokesmen for the pastors. He was accompanied by the Rev. C. Howard Canon of the Oakland Free Methodist Church, president of the association, and the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

"We feel this is a primary and basic moral matter," the minister declared. "Our convictions are not confined to members of the Ministerial Association. We represent hundreds or perhaps thousands of people in this community who have strong convictions."

"It's demoralizing to a law enforcement officer not to have the authority to correct a violation," the minister continued. "We have confidence in our police force and we feel any authority that will assist them in enforcing the law should be offered.

"Many people who have convictions on this subject are not vocal," the minister added. "Some of our citizens are indifferent. One way to overcome this indifference is for them to know there are laws on the books and men to enforce them. If there are technicalities in the ordinance, we have courts to administer them judiciously."

Dr. J. Keith Rugh of Ohio Ave. also spoke in favor of enacting the ordinance. Approval of the legislation would "help the morale of the police department," he said.

"Don't take away from the police department the 'handcuffs' it needs to enforce the law," he said. "If this ordinance doesn't go through 100 per cent, I think there is something wrong with the men who represent our people in this Council."

The ordinance was presented under "unfinished business," as it had been given first reading two weeks ago and was ready for second reading.

Kidder moved for second reading, seconded by Sample. The vote was unanimous. Clerk Ray Goodman read the ordinance.

Then Sample moved for suspension of rules and immediate passage, seconded by Kidder. The 4-3 vote resulted. Council moved on to the next item of business without further comment.

Webber read the statement explaining his stand during the "miscellaneous" section of the agenda — the time reserved for councilmen at the close of the meeting to take up business not classified under any other heading.

He declared that much of the ordinance is not aimed at professional gamblers but would "deprive a great number of people of a simple pleasure which has become a way of life over a period of many years." Webber explained he was referring to clauses which apparently would outlaw "a raffle ticket, a chance donation on $1,000, a chance on a 'picnic' automobile, a race track ticket, a door prize ticket or a bingo card."

Webber said councilmen had been told that there would not be unreasonably strict enforcement of the new law against raffles and other charity promotions that have been countenanced for years.

"Why enact a law not to be enforced?" he asked. "The thought occurred to me as to the time of enforcement left to the present administration which, with but one exception, is leaving office to a new group of legislators who will have their own ideas and may prefer to introduce their ordinance on the subject which would be effective during their term of office and not have us tell them as an outgoing group how to run their business."

Webber then pointed out that the city has ordinances already in effect covering "policy" and "numbers" games and laws for destruction of gambling devices.

"I would be very much obliged if the general public could see and read in their entirety the present ordinances and this proposed ordinance and not just the subject of the ordinance as printed and referred to as the 'gambling' or 'numbers' ordinance by the local newspaper," Webber continued.

Then he said that the police chief and the solicitor have not offered an amended ordinance to Council, although it was evident that at least three of the seven members were not satisfied with the legislation they recommended. He also pointed to a section of the state code which, he said, requires that an ordinance can cover only one subject. The anti-gambling ordinance covers a number of subjects such as possession of gambling devices, authorizing the destruction of gambling devices and two other points, Webber said.

Webber commented that when three persons talked to him to urge enactment of the ordinance, he asked if they had read the proposed legislation. Each replied that he had not, Webber continued.

"I have shown the ordinance to many more than three people and their response was: "Well, I don't believe in organized gambling but that says they can arrest you for taking a chance or anything if you have a ticket on it or "Why not just the numbers'?"

"I am satisfied that if this ordinance was put to a vote of the people in my ward it would not pass a majority vote so therefore I have voted 'no' on this ordinance as presented," Webber concluded.

Granted permission to speak, Cooper remarked that Webber erred in saying the ordinance covers more than one subject.

"The ordinance is on only one-subject — gambling," he said.

"I think if he had read a little further down in the ordinance book, he would have learned he could have consulted the solicitor at any time on what the ordinance meant," Cooper said. "But he did not."

That ended the discussion on the gambling ordinance. Although several members who voted against the legislation Dec. 7 said at that time they wanted a chance to investigate further, none made any comment last night.

Weirton Firm Given Cumberland Car Order

NEW CUMBERLAND — Town Council Monday night awarded the Cattrell Motor Co. of Weirton a contract to provide a new police cruiser for the community.

Mrs. Mary Lou Wagner, clerk, said cost of the Ford cruiser will be approximately $1,270 as the bid required a "posit-track" differential.

Cancer Is Fatal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mary T. Swickard, 50, a home economist with the Department of Agriculture since 1945, died Sunday of cancer. Known to listeners of the National Farm and Home Hour radio program as "Mary King," Mrs. Swickard presented a weekly report highlighting her agency's homemaker news.

3-Day Holiday Due For Many

11 a. m. They will close at 9 p. m. Saturday.

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said one stamp window and one money order window at the downtown office will remain open until 5 p. m. Wednesday but Station A will close at noon.

Because President Eisenhower has granted postal employes a half holiday on Thursday, all deliveries will be made but window service at the downtown office will be suspended at noon. Station A also will close at noon.

On Christmas, any gift parcels and perishables and special deliveries will be delivered and mail will be received and dispatched as usual. Station A will be closed and there will be no window service at the downtown office.

The regular Saturday schedule will be followed at the East End and downtown offices with all windows closing at noon.

Both the City Hall and the Courthouse at Lisbon will close at noon Thursday and reopen Monday morning.

Financial institutions throughout the area will be closed for the holiday.

The First National Bank and the Potters Bank & Trust will have regular hours Wednesday and Thursday — from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. — and will be open Saturday from 9 to noon.

The Potters Savings & Loan Co. will be open from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Wednesday and Thursday, closing for Friday and Saturday. The First Federal Savings & Loan Association of East End will be open until 3 Wednesday afternoon and 5 Thursday, also closing until Monday.

At Chester, the Hancock County Federal Savings & Loan Association will be open until 3 p. m. tomorrow and until 5 Thursday, closing until Monday.

At Wellsville, the Perpetual Savings & Loan Co. and the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association will mark a two-day closing for Christmas, resuming Monday.

The Chester City Hall office of the water works will be closed Thursday through Sunday. The West Virginia State Liquor store at Chester will be closed Friday through Sunday.

District potteries are expected to suspend operation Thursday, with most scheduled to resume work Monday morning. However, some departments at some potteries are not scheduled to resume operation until the first of the year.

Carnegie Public Library will close at 5 Christmas Eve and remain closed until noon Saturday. It will remain open Saturday until 6 p. m., Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said. The same schedule will be followed on New Year's weekend, she added.

To aid in the return of books, patrons can deposit their books in a return box in front of the library.

The Wellsville Carnegie Library will be closed from Wednesday night until Monday morning.

The Wellsville Post Office will be closed all day. No home deliveries will be made except parcel post packages which look like Christmas gifts, according to Elmer Evans, postmaster. This is done to avoid having anyone disappointed by not receiving a gift, he said. The lobby will be open from 6:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. for the convenience of box holders. Regular hours will be observed Saturday.

Wellsville City Hall offices, with the exception of the police and fire departments, will be closed both Friday and Saturday, giving employes a three-day weekend. Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson said trash collections will be made both days. The men volunteered to work so as not to get behind on the schedule.

The Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. in East End will suspend operations both Friday and Saturday. The office will be closed from noon Thursday to Monday morning.

The Louthan Manufacturing Co. in Klondyke also will be down for the entire weekend with operations resuming Monday morning.

Midland's Borough offices will be closed Thursday from noon until Monday, Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, secretary, said. The Beaver County Courthouse will close from Thursday noon until Monday except for the offices of recorder of deeds and prothonotary, which will be open a half day Saturday.

Midland's Mackintosh - Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. will begin the observance Thursday at 4 p. m. with work resuming Sunday midnight, L. R. Brown, plant manager, said.

Like most major steel producers, Crucible Steel Co. has scheduled operations for the "hot end" of the business through Christmas, including coke ovens, blast furnaces, open hearths, electric furnaces and bloom and billet mills.

Generally, finishing facilities are not scheduled to work on Christmas Day, the company said.

Treadwell Construction Co. will halt operations for the holidays Thursday at 4:30 p. m. and not resume production until Monday.

The Treadwell office will close at noon Thursday and re-open for regular hours Monday, officials said.

Midland stores will close at 5:30 p. m. Thursday instead of 6.

The Midland Post office will complete its delivery of borough mail by noon Thursday, Angelo Cellini, postmaster said.

There will be limited window service from 12 noon to 5 p. m. and special delivery service as usual.

The Hancock County Court House in New Cumberland will be closed from Thursday noon until Monday morning, according to Donald Stewart, clerk.

Democrats

seek renomination are Treasurer Vincent C. Judge, Court Clerk Carl L. Stacey, Probate Judge Louis Tobin and Dr. W. A. Kolozsi, coroner.

Albert E. Kittridge, former East Liverpool policeman, already has filed for sheriff. John Ansman and Joseph McGurren, both of Salem, are scheduled to seek the same post. Atty. Herbert E. Arfman of Leetonia, who practices at Salem, is preparing to seek the prosecuting attorney's office.

The party has two prospective candidates for county engineer, but their names have not been revealed.

Don Gosney of Columbiana already has filed for return as state Democratic committeeman in the 18th Congressional District. He also is county chairman.

The congressional District is expected to have candidates in the presidential preference primary pledged to support Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as Ohio's "favorite son" at the Democratic national convention. The district is authorized two delegates to the convention.

Ike

Morocco's King, who wants more American aid but wants the U.S. to give up its bases here, turned out to greet Eisenhower at the airport.

The dense crowds slowed the motorcade's progress, and the President was about a half hour behind schedule on the trip to the royal palace.

He was due to leave at noon EST for Washington, bringing to an end a history-making journey which was a triumph for the President in most of the places he visited.

"We are very happy to greet you," said the King in a brief welcoming address in Arabic before they drove off to Casablanca for talks on Morocco's desire for more U.S. aid and a swift departure of American troops from Moroccan bases.

After a 5½ - hour visit with King Mohammed V, Eisenhower was to take off for Washington.

"We like Ike" signs bedecked the streets of Casablanca, which Eisenhower last visited in 1943 as a wartime general.

Tents of Moroccan tribesmen who came to hail the President dotted the plains southeast of the city. Mutton cooked over hundreds of campfires.

Tribal horsemen in brown burnooses galloped in groups and fired their rifles skyward in traditional salute to visiting dignitaries.

Eisenhower flew from Madrid after discussing the world situation with Spain's Generalissimo Francisco Franco at breakfast in Franco's Pardo Palace. That was the windup of a visit that drew about a million Spaniards out in raw wind and a cold rain Monday to roar "Viva Ike."

A 582-mile jet flight landed the President 15 miles south of this sprawling Atlantic seaport at the Nouasseur Air Base, one of five big U.S. installations which the State Department has agreed the United States will give up.

In Casablanca, sentries in scarlet pantaloons and blue turbans stood rigidly at the high Moorish gates of the 25-foot walls about the buff-colored palace.

Following his arrival at the palace, Eisenhower was to rest 90 minutes, then join his host for an hour's luncheon. They arranged a private conference from 3 to 4 p.m. Then the President was to return to Nouasseur for his flight home. One refueling stop was scheduled on the way, at Gander, Nfld.

The United States has agreed to surrender the five American bases it built in Morocco at a cost of more than 400 million dollars while Morocco was a protectorate of France and Spain. They are staffed by 1,000 Americans, employ 8,000 Moroccan civilians and pour about 64 million dollars annually into the Moroccan economy.

While this will satisfy a Moroccan yearning for political and military independence, the departure of the U.S. forces will worsen an economic situation that has become grave in the first three uneasy years of indepencence.

So far Morocco has received 102 million dollars in U.S. economic aid.

Council Action Unanimous

East End Bus Franchise Granted

Council Monday night gave unanimous approval to an ordinance granting a franchise on the East End bus line to Donald W. Barnes and John R. Campbell, owners of the Tri-State Transit Co., who have been operating the runs since the Holtz Transportation Co. quit business in mid-November.

The franchise ordinance had been held over from the meeting Dec. 7 to allow Council to investigate the amount of property damage insurance the operators would be required to carry.

AS THE TRI-STATE franchise specified $10,000 property damage insurance and the operating right for the Wellsville-Grandview-Pleasant Heights run called for $20,000 coverage, some of the councilmen said they felt the apparent discrepancy should be investigated.

The question was cleared up last night, however, when Councilman William Y. Orr, franchise committee chairman, pointed out that Barnes and Campbell do not operate out of state charter service and $10,000 is the maximum amount of property damage normally required for such a franchise. The $20,000 insurance is carried by John W. Young of Inter-City Transit Co., who serves the other lines, because he operates charter service out of the state, Orr explained.

THE FRANCHISE for Inter-City was approved Dec. 7. Both concerns filed detailed copies of their schedules with Council last night.

After the legislation was enacted, Orr commented that he feels the city "now is being served by two good bus lines."

Council approved two other pieces of legislation. It enacted an amended appropriation ordinance providing a total of $5,250 in year-end transfers and approved legislation to vacate a block - long unused hillside stretch of McKinnon Ave. from Fairmont St. to Cone Alley.

The appropriation ordinance provides $2,000 for the street department — $1,000 each for wages and material — $1,000 for material and supplies in the incinerator department, $150 for water rent at Thompson Park, $150 for supplies in the sewage treatment department and $2,100 for payrolls and supplies in the water department.

COUNCIL REFERRED to the street committee a letter from Howard Parsons, president of the Parsons Coal Co. at the foot of Jackson St., declaring he is willing to furnish free any concrete that would be needed to make adequate repairs to the Jackson St. crossing.

Parsons explained a copy of his letter was ent to the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. He said track crews have worked on the crossing several times but "it becomes almost impassable about every 30 days."

Council heard a letter from the State Highway Department explaining the need for long - range planning to develop adequate street and highway systems. It was received and filed.

Council also filed a letter from James Pelley, acting fire chief, thanking both Council and the administration for improvements made in the fire department in the last two years.

COUNCILMAN Robert W. Sample Jr., street committee chairman, referred to the 1960-61 Council a petition asking that Valley View St. "be accepted as a city street and maintained as such."

Councilman A. Stanley Kidder suggested extension of a storm sewer along Pennsylvania Ave. from Dewey Ave. to Maryland Ave. He said the Pennsylvania Railroad should be asked to move cars which he said it has on a siding near the Putnam St. crossing. The cars block motorists' view of the crossing, he said.

The meeting opened with invocation by John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ.

Eligible For Parole

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ira Walker, 75, of Ross County became eligible for immediate parole consideration when Gov. Michael V. DiSalle commuted his first-degree murder sentence to second-degree Monday. Walker entered Ohio Penitentiary in 1938 for the slaying of Fred Turner over the attentions of Ethel Smith, a mutual friend.

Not Enough Money To Assist Jobless, West Virginia Says

CHARLESTON (AP) — The Department of Public Assistance says it doesn't have enough money to help jobless workers in the state even if the way was cleared for the DPA to provide for relief checks to unemployed employables.

The department said it wanted to set the record straight because many people have assumed the DPA has enough funds to make such grants.

Because of the lack of money, policy and law changes alone would not insure financial grants to unemployed employables, Social Services Division Chief Benjamin M. Guy III said.

Even if the DPA had an additional state appropriation equal to its current amount of about 10 million dollars for all of its services and programs, the grants for unemployed employables would be meager.

Based on a recent estimate of 70,000 unemployed in the state, "we would have only sufficient funds to grant each of the families of unemployed employables about $150 in the entire year, or $12.50 a month," Guy said. He added:

"To grant even $50 per month to each of the families of 70,000 would require an additional appropriation of $3,500,000 a month, or 42 million dollars for a 12 - month period."

Guy said federal financial participation is not available for cash grants to unemployed employable workers and for the administration of such a program.

Some other states have programs which provide assistance to employable persons who lose their jobs. It has not been DPA policy to give such help, and there also might be some legal barriers.

"We agree," Guy said, "the family of an unemployed employable worker can be just as much in need of the basic necessities of life as the family of a disabled individual."

If the money could be found for it, the DPA is not opposed to a program of temporary financial assistance to these workers as a stop-gap measure," Guy said.

He said the DPA also favors such temporary measures as extended unemployment compensation, an expanded surplus commodities program and the possible establishment of a public works undertaking.

Dog Touches Off Chain Of Mishaps; Woman Is Killed

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A dog running across a highway touched off a chain of accidents near New Miami Monday night that brought death to Moss Prueitt, 35, a member of the Hamilton Fire Department emergency squad.

Prueitt was struck and killed by a car driven by Frank Elmes, 69, of West Elkton after Prueitt had alighted from his own automobile to assist in clearing up a previous accident.

Dorothea Johnson of Seve Mile suddenly applied the brakes of her car when the dog ran in front of her. Marvin Lakes of Seven Mile, driving behind her in a truck, hit the brakes of his vehicle and it swerved to one side and overturned.

Prueitt, seeing the mishap, stopped to offer aid. Another truck then approached, followed by Elmes in his car. When the truck suddenly slowed, Elmes applied the brakes. His car swerved to one side, hit Prueitt, sideswiped the fireman's car and crashed through a fence into a field.

Christmas Meeting Held By Fairview PTA

The Christmas meeting of the Fairview Parent-Teacher Association was held in Fairview School Friday night and Mrs. Ed Ryan, president, opened the program with prayer. No business was discussed.

150 To Be Distributed

Dolls Refurbished For Christmas

Dolls, dolls and more dolls are accumulating in assembly fashion as these volunteer workers of the Home League of the Salvation Army prepare to make many little girls happy at Christmas time.

Shown, left to right, are Mrs. Thelma Hildebran', secretary of the group, Miss Mabel McHenry and Mrs. Hazel Stowers, who were credited with dressing the most dolls for the project.

The women have been busy for many weeks repairing and sewing new outfits for the dolls. Mrs. William Hathorn, wife of the local commanding officer, said some 150 dolls will be distributed, along with toys for other children in the family, when they get their family basket, treat and clothing the day before Christmas at the Citadel.

Miss Bonny Seaman, a student at Beaver Local High School, has been busy at her "doll hospital" preparing the gifts for Christmas distribution. The transformation included several large "mama dolls." She said she will be busy until the day before Santa Claus gathers them for the Salvation Army Toy Shop.

VFW Post To Entertain Members And Children

Santa Claus will distribute toys and refreshments, and a floor show will be presented. Nick Turkaly is chairman. Toys for needy youngsters and Christmas baskets for needy families will be delivered later.

Special Yule Service Due For Drinking GIs

TACHIKAWA AIR BASE, Japan (AP)—The U.S. Air Force today announced a special Christmas service for its charges who celebrate too much.

A headquarters announcement to all American personnel at this huge base invited them to telephone the air police for a chauffeur if "at any time during the Christmas holidays you might attend a party and feel you cannot drive your vehicle because you have been drinking."

City In Bus Business

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Two ordinances putting the city of Fremont in the bus company business became law Monday in spite of Mayor C. W. Auxter's disapproval. At the Nov. 3 election voters approved a petition for purchase of the Fremont Transit Lines for $24,000. The system operates seven buses on four routes from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily except Sunday.

150 To Be Distributed

Dolls Refurbished For Christmas

Dolls, dolls and more dolls are accumulating in assembly fashion as these volunteer workers of the Home League of the Salvation Army prepare to make many little girls happy at Christmas time.

Shown, left to right, are Mrs. Thelma Hildebrand, secretary of the group, Miss Mabel McHenry and Mrs. Hazel Stowers, who were credited with dressing the most dolls for the project.

The women have been busy for many weeks repairing and sewing new outfits for the dolls.

Mrs. William Hathorn, wife of the local commanding officer, said some 150 dolls will be distributed, along with toys for other children in the family, when they get their family basket, treat and clothing the day before Christmas at the Citadel.

Miss Bonny Seaman, a student at Beaver Local High School, has been busy at her "doll hospital" preparing the gifts for Christmas distribution. The transformation included several large "mama dolls." She said she will be busy until the day before Santa Claus gathers them for the Salvation Army Toy Shop.

VFW Post To Entertain Members And Children

The annual Christmas party for youngsters of members of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 will be held tonight from 6:30 to 8 at the post home.

Santa Claus will distribute toys and refreshments, and a floor show will be presented. Nick Turkaly is chairman. Toys for needy youngsters and Christmas baskets for needy families will be delivered later.

Special Yule Service Due For Drinking GIs

TACHIKAWA AIR BASE, Japan (AP)—The U.S. Air Force today announced a special Christmas service for its charges who celebrate too much.

A headquarters announcement to all American personnel at this huge base invited them to telephone the air police for a chauffeur if "at any time during the Christmas holidays you might attend a party and feel you cannot drive your vehicle because you have been drinking."

City In Bus Business

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Two ordinances putting the city of Fremont in the bus company business became law Monday in spite of Mayor C. W. Auxter's disapproval. At the Nov. 3 election voters approved a petition for purchase of the Fremont Transit Lines for $24,000. The system operates seven buses on four routes from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily except Sunday.

Elected 17 Consecutive Times

Thomas A. Jenkins, 79, Ex-U.S. Congressman, Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former Republican Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins, who for 34 years represented southern Ohio in the U.S. House of Representatives, died Monday night in a sanitarium in suburban Worthington. He was 79.

Jenkins, who was elected 17 consecutive times before retiring in 1958 because of a heart ailment, represented the eight counties of the 10th District. They include Lawrence, Jackson, Fairfield, Hocking, Vinton, Gallia, Meigs and Athens.

A native of Oak Hill in Jackson County, he was born Oct. 20, 1880. He worked in the coal mines of that area in his youth and taught school when he was still in his teens. In 1907 he was graduated from the Ohio State University Law School and immediately opened an office in Ironton which he maintained ever since.

After serving two terms as Lawrence County prosecutor Jenkins moved into state politics in 1922 when he was elected to the Ohio Senate.

Two years later he began his long tour in Washington. He had announced himself a candidate for an 18th term in 1958 but the heart ailment caused him to withdraw his name shortly before the May primary.

Even though he asked his constituents not to vote for him, Jenkins received 12,514 votes in the November 1958 election, only 618 less than Homer E. Abele, the unsuccessful GOP nominee.

In 1936 when President Roosevelt swept Democrats into office throughout the nation Jenkins was the only Republican elected to Congress from Ohio. At that time Ohio had two Democrat senators and a Democrat governor.

In 1956 he was elected without opposition.

At his retirement, Jenkins was the second-ranked Republican on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee.

A strong backer of public works legislation, Jenkins sponsored a flood control bill in 1948 which resulted in Ironton's five-million-dollar flood wall. Later the U.S. Army Engineers named a lake and dam in Athens County after him. The lake now is called Lake Burr Oak but the dam still carries his name.

He is survived by his widow, Mabel, and a sister, Miss Margaret Jenkins, of Cincinnati.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church in Ironton. Baker Funeral Home in that community is handling the arrangements.

Ex-Wellsville Man Stabbed At Cleveland

A former Wellsville man employed as a van driver was stabbed in the face, chest and abdomen late Monday in a scuffle with an attendant in a parking lot in Cleveland.

Chester K. Smith, 24, of Lakewood is in "fair" condition in St. Vincent Charity Hospital with knife wounds received while grappling with the parking lot attendant who became enraged when Smith used the lot for a short-cut to a ramp.

Police today still were hunting the attendant, who fled after the stabbing.

A helper on the moving van—Carl J. Garner, 18, of Cleveland—told police that Smith cut through the lot to get into position to turn into the Innerbelt Bridge ramp.

The attendant, a dark - skinned, 165-pounder, shouted that they could not use the lot as a short-cut.

Smith and the attendant grappled and Garner said the attendant pulled what appeared to be a knife. Smith suddenly began bleeding from the face and chest, Garner told police.

Smith was able to get back in his cab and drove to a nearby bridge entrance where he hailed a police car. The attendant was employed by a firm which uses the lot Smith tried to use as a turning site.

A veteran of the Korean conflict, he went to Cleveland two months ago.

Chester, VFW To Give Yule Baskets To Needy

Distribution of food orders for needy families was discussed by Chester Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6450 at a meeting Monday night at the post home.

Certificates for food orders will be given to about 25 families in the town later this week. The post also authorized a $25 contribution to the Salvation Army at Weirton.

Lunch was served 24 by Kenneth Williams and committee. Floyd Allison, past commander, was in charge. The next meeting will be Jan. 4.

3 Small Nations Express Fears Of East-West Talks

By GEORGE McARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—Belgium, Greece and Turkey expressed fears today they may be affected by decisions taken at an East-West summit conference in which they had no part.

The three little nations—supported in party by Norway and Italy—spoke up at a closed session of the Atlantic Alliance's Ministerial Council.

The council gave full support to the Western Big Three proposal for summit talks with the Soviet Union but with a proviso for prior consultation among the allies.

Strong hints came from Moscow that Premier Nikita Khrushchev will accept the Western invitation to a summit session this spring with the United States, Britain and France.

U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd took pains to reassure doubtful smaller nations.

Herter and Lloyd assured the other ministers that no nation's interests would be jeopardized behind its back. NATO officials emphasized that the issue did not develop to the point of acrimony.

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu expressed doubts the Soviet Union has the peaceful intentions it professes. This, he said, made firm consultation all round more than ever necessary.

Lloyd said that even on disarmament he did not visualize any final agreements would be made without full approval of any nation concerned. Sources said the allies appeared reassured by these pledges and the meeting closed harmoniously.

It was reported authoritatively that the United States considered the West's proposals for a series of summit conferences as mainly a psychological move in order not to raise false hopes.

The United States does not believe the proposal for a series of summit conferences in any way commits the West to more than the Paris meeting proposed for April, it was reported on high authority.

The test of whether any future summit meetings will be arranged will be the sincerity shown by Moscow at the first conference.

The Ministerial Council of NATO ended its annual policy review meeting after hearing a report from French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville on the weekend meeting of the Western Big Four.

The 15-nation council in a communique said it fully supported the invitation the United States, Britain and France sent Khrushchev Monday. West Germany also attended the weekend meeting, but will not go to the East-West summit.

The ministers also endorsed the Western proposal that the new 10-nation Western-Communist disarmament conference start work in Geneva March 15. The council offered the services of NATO's military experts in the disarmament study.

The NATO ministers reaffirmed their year-old pledge to support the United States, Britain and France in maintaining the freedom of West Berlin.

In a news conference the council president, Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange, predicted a period of extensive negotiations with the Soviet Union.

"Political cooperation, political unity and—I stress the word—effective political consultation are more important than ever," he declared.

Pravda, organ of the Soviet Communist party, said the Paris conference "marked a step forward on the path of easing international tension."

"The Soviet government's proposal on a meeting of the leaders of the four great powers has found a positive response," a Moscow radio commentator said Monday night.

He added that a meeting of U.S., Soviet, British and French leaders "will help to remove mutual distrust and open the way for a further relaxation of international tensions."

The Western Big Three envision a series of top level East-West talks — provided the first one makes some progress. The idea is to test Khrushchev's professed desires to end world tensions at the opening meeting proposed for Paris April 27.

Also in the offing are a revival of East-West disarmament negotiations, proposed by the West for March 15 in Geneva, and negotiations to unify the trade policies of the free world to meet the new Soviet economic challenge and at the same time minimize traditional trade rivalries among the Western Allies.

President Eisenhower, President Charles de Gaulle of France, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany worked out this general program in a weekend of intensive consultation in Paris.

Working groups of experts were given the complex task of organizing agreed Western policies in detail.

The Western leaders suggested to the Soviets that the first East-West summit plan to take up such general opics as the problem of Germany—including Berlin, disarmament and East - West relations.

In delivering the summit invitations, the three Western ambassadors in Moscow told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko the West wants wide-ranging negotiations unhampered by a rigid agenda.

Eisenhower, De Gaulle and Macmillan also visualized the summit strictly as a Big Four affair without leaders from East or West Germany, Communist China or even neutralist India.

27 Are Dead, 27 Missing In Typhoon

MANILA (AP)—Typhoon Gilda one of the worst storms to hit the Philippines in recent memory, left at least 20 persons dead, 27 missing and some 60,000 homeless, official reports said today.

The typhoon also dealt a staggering blow to the Philippines' coconut industry, the largest in the world. The 120-mile winds ripped through coconut plantations in the rich, thickly populated central islands 150 miles south of Manila.

Authorities said it might take four years for the coconut industry to recover.

A report from Samar Island, which bore the brunt of the onslaught last Friday and Saturday, said 27 towns were badly hit and some 2,500 homes swept away.

Fourteen of the deaths resulted from the sinking of the interisland ship M. V. Rizal. Another 27 of the 107 passengers and crewmen aboard were missing. The others were rescued.

Algerian Rebels Reshuffle Regime, Choose New Premier

CAIRO (AP) — Algerian rebel leaders were reported today to have reshuffled their provisional government-in-exile and named a tough military commander as premier.

Reliable North African sources said the new Cabinet would be a five - man military government headed by Krim Belkacem, former vice premier and defense minister.

Belkacem is a shadowy figure who has been involved mainly with the military conduct of the five-year-old rebellion. Last year he was quoted as saying that his men would not lay down their arms unless France recognizes Algeria's independence.

Other members of the new Cabinet reportedly are Abdel Hafiz Boussouf, deputy premier and minister of armament; Omar Ouseddik, minister of social affairs; Youssef ben Khedda, foreign affairs and interior, and Al Akhdar ben Toubal, finance and economy.

All held different posts in the rebel Cabinet set up here in September 1958. Recently it shifted its headquarters to Tunis.

Word of the new cabinet came to sources here by cable from Tripoli, Libya, where the rebel leadership now is meeting. The sources said the rebels had decided to locate the official seat of their government within Algeria, although full cabinet meetings would be held in Tripoli.

Cancer Fund Case Settled In Beaver

BEAVER — Beaver County Court today approved a compromise settlement between the American Cancer Society and the Beaver County Cancer Society which will donate $19,671 in the county organization's treasury to the University of Pittsburgh for cancer research.

The county organization was disaffiliated from the state and national groups in 1956 when the Beaver chapter decided to participate in the United Fund.

The national organization brought a suit against the county society sometime ago to obtain the funds held in escrow.

Building Code Staff Awaited

SALINEVILLE — Mayor - elect Kenneth Leishman is expected shortly to name a five - member building code committee to supervise a new building code program recently enacted by Council.

The committee will include three councilmen and two citizens who will decide on approval of any plans for new building construction or altering of the exteriors of present buildings.

Council approved the code at the meeting Dec. 14 under a suspension of rules requiring three separate readings.

The code calls for an application and rough plans for any new building or alterations of present building walls to be filed with the village clerk at a flat fee of $1. The plans will be studied by the committee, and if approved, a permit will be issued.

The regulation does not apply to interior plumbing, wiring or other facilities, and is apparently designed chiefly at establishing approved standards for adequate and slightly homes and buildings.

Any new building should have at least 700 square feet of floor space on the first story, according to the code.

Melvin and Clinton Seevers, who will be councilmen-at-large; Clifford J. Cooper, who will represent the First Ward, and Donald E. Smith, new councilman from the Third Ward.

Edwards thanked Council and the administration for pay increases that will take effect Jan. 1, benefitting other incoming officials, including the Council members.

Each of the retiring councilmen thanked fellow members and the administration for co-operation in the last two years and extended season's greetings.

Two of the members, Councilmen H. A. Tullis and Samuel B. Webber, said they expect to seek public office again.

But Councilman W. E. Kaiser said: "This is my swan song—what I have been waiting for the last 23 months. The new Council has my sincere sympathy and condolences."

"I've been criticized a lot and I've been commended a lot," Tullis commented. "I did exactly what I promised when I came into this office—to vote my own convictions. We haven't seen eye-to-eye on everything, but I think that is good in city business or any business."

Mayor Lawrence extended thanks to Council, city employes and officials and the public "for co-operation in the last two years."

"It's been eventful and at times difficult, but I don't think any of us expected it to be easy," he said. "I think we can retire proud of the accomplishments of the last two years. I feel we are leaving the city in better condition from every aspect. It's been a joint effort."

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper referred to the retiring Council as "probably the most courageous Council I've ever worked with."

"You've all voted your convictions on every ordinance," the solicitor continued. "In closing I'll use a line I've used on several previous occasions. I still don't know why anyone would want to be a councilman, even with the pay raise that's been voted."

In his closing remarks, Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. proposed a motion to commend Clerk Ray Goodman, who is retiring after 12 years service. He cited the clerk's "good work and long service." The motion passed unanimously.

Council President B. E. Warner declared he leaves office "with the utmost respect for every one of you," referring to the Council members.

"I've never had an evasive answer from any member and I think that's important for the whole city to know," he continued. "This Council, although it was defeated over a couple of major issues, has done a tremendous job in improving the finances of the city and its general operation. We looked to the future. In doing so, I think we made the city aware of what it will take to make this a better community."

Yule Week Brightened For St. Clair Trustees

The holiday week for St. Clair Township trustees was brightened somewhat Monday night when a township resident came to the meeting not to ask for something but to thank the officials.

Frank Mitcheson of Mud Ln. expressed appreciation for the recent spreading of slag on Mud Ln. which he had requested earlier. A spokesman said it is not often that residents attend a meeting to thank trustees.

The trustees authorized a resolution requesting a slag grant from the county, which the township will match in funds to provide slag.

Requests for slag were received from residents of Kinsey Rd. and Grimms Bridge Rd.

municipalities. Then he reviewed the defense contention that the ordinance is arbitrary and discriminatory.

The court did not pronounce sentence on Berman at the time he handed down the opinion. The judge said sentencing will be scheduled later.

Among other things, the ordinance requires that a junk yard must be enclosed with a 7-foot fence that meets the approval of the safety-service director; that all junk must be stored inside a building or an enclosed yard; that the businesses may operate only between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m.; that records must be kept of all purchases and that certain articles must be held at least 30 days before resale.

"This is not a new question; it has been hovering around over similar ordinances and laws for nearly 100 years," the judge wrote in his opinion. "And during that whole time the junk dealers have been resentful over any and all regulations."

Continuing, the judge said in his opinion:

"The object of the ordinance was not to oppress the junk dealers, but rather to protect the public against a lot of roving scavengers who scour the city for cast-off articles and some that are not cast-off. The regulations complained of simply require the dealer to keep a record of what he purchases from day to day and to keep the property for 30 days to prevent loss of identity and give a chance for the public to reclaim any stolen or misappropriated articles.

"And all the articles purchased as junk are required to be kept in an enclosure for the same reasons. If they were allowed to be scattered around over the city, identification would be impossible and the other regulations would be useless. Any less regulation than contained in the ordinance would be inadequate.

"It is claimed that the ordinance is discriminatory as between junk dealers and used car dealers, in that used car dealers do not have to obtain the same license. Used car dealers are second-hand dealers. The cars bought and sold are easily identifiable by a certificate of title. The cars bought by the junk dealer for junk lose their identity immediately and the title is killed. The two businesses are so dissimilar that such claim has no weight at all.

"A further claim is made that the ordinance delegates power illegally by saying that the fence required by the ordinance 'must meet with the approval of the director of public safety.' But it is hard to see where there is any delegation of power when it would be the duty of the safety department to approve or prosecute if it did not approve, in any event. The matter of the 7-foot fence required is easily separable and will not be considered in the instant case.

"Upon consideration of the law and the facts, we have concluded that the Ordinance No. 6 of 1959 entitled 'An Ordinance Licensing and Regulating the Business of Junk Dealers' is a valid exercise of legislative power vested in the Council by Section 3, Article XVIII, of the Ohio Constitution and the defendant, subservient thereto, has violated its provisions and is subject to a maximum fine of $50 and costs."

Gift Distribution For Children Will End Wednesday

LISBON — Columbiana County Welfare Department case workers will complete distribution of Christmas gifts Wednesday to 200 children in foster homes. One gift, however, was too big to carry.

Most unusual request came from a boy who lives on a farm. He wants a calf to raise. It will be in the barn Christmas Day.

Director Robert Bycroft said the generosity of organizations and individuals makes it possible for each of the children to get a fine present.

Gifts included record players, radios, sporting equipment, watches, clothes, dolls and toys of all kinds.

The foster children's Christmas Fund has receipts of $1,900 or $300 over the goal.

In addition, organizations and churches have furnished the department with a big supply of toys and clothing. Bycroft said these will be distributed to deserving families outside the foster home program.

Firemen At Glenmoor To Entertain Children

Santa Claus will distribute treats in the program sponsored by the auxiliary and the Firemen's Association.

Devine Banks, president, said firemen will be on duty to protect pedestrian traffic, and he urged motorists to be extremely cautious in the area tomorrow night and tonight when a Christmas treat will be held at the United Presbyterian Church by the church and American Legion.

The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia said only a few cindering trucks were on the job this morning. The entire department had worked through midnight.

There was a rash of fender-benders yesterday and the sub-freezing temperatures last night turned traffic - packed snow to a glaze and slush to icy ruts.

The dam recorded an overnight low of 16 degrees and some rural sections reported an unofficial 5 early today.

The mercury will range from 32 to 37 degrees today then dip tonight to 22 to 27.

Temperatures were extremely low this morning elsewhere in the state, the mercury dropped to 8 degrees in Columbus. The coldest reported this morning was 3 at Zanesville. Cleveland had 21, Cincinnati 17.

Joy To The World

Carols Have Come From Many Pens

The words to "Joy to the World" were written by Isaac Watts in 1719. A century and a half later the music was added by a Massachusetts man. The intervening period was one of the most fruitful for carol writers. This is the second of three articles on how our Christmas carols were born.

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Isaac Watts, often called the "Father of Hymnody," came into the world when Christmas carol singing was regarded as "ye work of ye devil."

It was the latter half of the 17th century, a time of great religious upheaval in Europe. Calvin's insistence that "the Bible alone" be used in public worship had driven popular hymns out of many churches, particularly in England among the strict Puritan sects.

Instead of hymns, the congregation chanted selected passages from the Scriptures, usually the Psalms. The clerk intoned the first line in a monotone and the people, as Watts once complained, responded with "dull indifference."

WATTS, one of nine children, was the son of a boarding house keeper and deacon of the Independent church who had twice gone to prison for his religious beliefs.

As a boy, Isaac had stood with his mother outside the prison gates to sing hymns to his father and the other inmates. His parents managed somehow to scrape together enough money to encourage his love of music with piano lessons.

His career as a hymn writer began when he complained on day about the uninspired songs heard in the church the family attended at Southampton.

"Then make some better ones," challenged his father.

Watts, although in poor health most of his life, responded by writing more than 600. At first they were called "Watts' Whims," but their popularity grew rapidly. When Benjamin Franklin set up his printing press at Philadelphia in 1741, the first book issued was "Watts Psalms and Hymns."

In all, Watts filled 52 volumes with his hymns. Most of them, like "Let Dogs Delight to Bark and Bite," are long forgotten, but his "How Doth the Little Busy Bee" remains a children's favorite and his "Joy to the World" has become a cherished Christmas classic.

Watts wrote "Joy to the World" in 1719 while staying as a house guest at the estate of Sir Thomas and Lady Abney outside London. In that visit he undoubtedly set the all - time guest record. He came for two weeks and stayed for 36 years. His gracious hosts complained that it didn't seem long enough.

THE MUSIC we hear today to "Joy to the World" was added more than 150 years after Watts wrote the words. It was composed in about 1870 by Lowell Mason of Medfield, Mass., and based somewhat loosely on themes found in Handel's "Messiah".

When Watts died in 1748, his place in the world of religious music had already been pre-empted by Charles Wesley, brother of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism.

The brothers went to America in 1735 as missionaries to the new colony at Georgia, where Charles was to be secretary to Gen. James Oglethorpe. Ill health forced him to return less than a year later, but he never forgot the marvelous singing of the German Moravian colonists.

The Moravians, a devout sect who later moved to Pennsylvania, gave Charles Wesley the inspiration for his life work. He published his first hymns at Charleston, S. C., and was brought before the grand jury in Savannah for introducing "Unauthorized Hymns into the Worship."

As the "Poet Laureate of Methodism," he wrote more than 6,000 hymns, finding inspiration almost anywhere and writing with ease under the most difficult conditions.

Once he fell off his horse while accompany brother John on an evangelical mission and complained that the resulting injury "spoiled all my hymn writing for that day."

He dashed off "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" while walking to church one Christmas day and thrilling to the tumult of London's church bells. The first two lines, as originally written in 1739, were

"Hark! how all the welkin rings Glory to the King of Kings."

A friend, the Rev. Martin Madan, altered the opening stanza in 1760 to the version we now know.

For 100 years the carol was sung to the same tune as Wesley's Easter hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today," but in 1856 Dr. W. H. Cummings, organist at Waltham Abbey, fitted it to the music of Mendelssohn's "Festgesang."

Mendelssohn would have been as surprised as Wesley. He wrote the music to commemoriate the 300th anniversary of the invention of printing and insisted it "never would do to sacred words."

MARTIN LUTHER, the great German reformer, was also a prodigious author of Christmas carols, but it is doubted if he wrote "Away In A Manger," sometimes Hymn."

The carol, in the opiniong of most authorities, originated among German Lutherans in Pennsylvania and was taken back to Germany in the 1840s.

But Luther, as poet Coleridge said, "did as much for the Reformation by his hymns as by his translation of the Bible." In addition to writing dozens of Christmas carols, Luther arranged and published "Good King Wenceslaus" and popularized "O Tannenbaum," the Christmas tree carol.

According to legend, Luther was fascinated with the way the stars seemed to glisten in the tips of the pine trees while walking in the woods one Christmas Eve. He cut a small fir tree and set out candles for stars to recreate the scene for his small children.

He wrote "From Heaven Above to Earth I Come," his most famous carol, as a Christmas cradle song for his son Paul. Bach harmonized this song for his Christmas oratorio.

German soldiers sang it in the trenches during a Christmas lull in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870. French soldiers responded with Adolphe Adam's "Canticle of Christmas," better known as "O Holy Night."

Adam, composer of the ballet "Giselle" and several operas, deserves a distinguished place among the makers of Christmas music.

His "O Holy Night" with its magnificent "O Night Divine" refrain is by far the best loved of all Christmas carols among professional musicians and has been sung by most of the world's great concert and opera stars.

Studio Pays Top Price For Willson Musical

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Meredith Willson's musical, "The Music Man," has been bought by Warner Bros. for what the studio calls one of the top prices ever paid for a Broadway show.

A trade publication said the figure was a million dollars or 10 per cent of the gross, whichever is larger.

Several motion picture studios had bid for the comedy—tale of a confidence man's visit to an early 20th century Iowa hamlet—now in its third year on Broadway.

Willson was unofficially reported in line for 60 per cent of the price as author and composer.

Fishing and hunting enthusiasts in the United States spend approximately six billion dollars a year for their equipment, plus services and transportation.

Couple Feted At Salineville

A dinner in honor of the 41st wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beckwith of Jefferson St., Salineville, was held Sunday afternoon at the home of their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Earl, of Jefferson St.

Beckwith, village street foreman, was a professional baseball player, serving with the New York and Pennsylvania League, the Ohio and Pennsylvania League and the Iowa, Illinois and Indiana League. His wife is interested in flower raising.

They were married Dec. 24, 1918, at New Cumberland. Beckwith is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beckwith, and his wife is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown.

About 37 attended the event, including guests from Salem, Minerva, Carrollton, Canton, Leetonia, Columbiana, Lisbon, Amsterdam and Bergholz.

Saturday visitors at East Liverpool included Mrs. Lyman Dowdell, Mrs. Blanch Gallagher, Mrs. Paul Strabley, Miss Marguerite Strabley, Miss Lydia Kirk, Miss Edna Kirk, Mrs. John Heck, Mrs. Helen James, Mrs. Gerald Johnson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney, Miss Jane Ann Keating, Mrs. Marilyn Sweeney, Mrs. Helen Mae Beadle, Mrs. Earl Davison and daughter, Miss Brenda Johnson and John Johnson.

Ex-Burlesque Show Owner Dies At 68

NEW YORK (AP)—Herbert Kay Minsky, 68, one of the Minsky brothers who once owned a coast-to-coast chain of burlesque houses died Monday night.

Minsky, who had been ill several months with a heart ailment, died shortly after being admitted to University Hospital.

A graduate of the Columbia University Law School, Minsky in 1912 joined his brothers Abe, Billy and Morton in building a nationwide chain of 14 burlesque houses.

The last of the Minsky striptease theaters was closed here by New York Mayor Fiorello La Guardia in 1937.

The Minskys were credited with the discovery of such stars as Gypsy Rose Lee, Phil Silvers, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, Red Buttons and Pinky Lee.

Rockefeller Cites Beatings Of Son By Youth Gang

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he has a personal knowledge of juvenile delinquency because his son Steven was beaten up three times by a youth gang.

The governor said it was 10 years ago when Steven was 13. He said the beatings took place in Manhattan while Steven was en route home from school.

Rockefeller made the disclosure in a panel interview on juvenile delinquency, published in the latest issue of the Ladies' Home Journal.

"Youthful crime and violence have increased in alarming proportions in recent yeaars," the governor is quoted.

"You know, one of my sons was beaten up three times on his way home from school here in New York a few years ago. In fact, 82 boys in his school were attacked and beaten.

"Juvenile delinquency isn't some abstract problem of a group of unfortunate people remote from us. It is right here. It affects all children and all families directly and indirectly."

Elks To Fete 1,000 Children At Yule Party

About 1,000 youngsters are expected to receive treats at the annual children's Christmas party of East Liverpool Elks Lodge 258 Friday morning at 10:30 in the lodge ballroom on W. 5th St.

The lodge has been sponsoring the children's treat for over 40 years.

The committee, appointed by Thomas F. Maley, exalted ruler, includes Roy Rinehart, Glenn Wilson, Joseph Chetwynd, Kenneth C. Berg, Richard Scott and G. W. Laughlin.

Uhrichsville Mayor, State Road In Feud

UHRICHSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Jess Dempster has flung another barricade across U.S. 36 and again is feuding with the Ohio Highway Department about maintenance of the road. Dempster said traffic would be detoured from the busy highway until someone other than the city removes a wrecked car wedged into a metal strip of a two-lane bridge and repairs the bridge.

In 1958 Mayor Dempster blocked off three highways through his city, including U.S. 36, until the streets were repaired by a $135,000 resurfacing project.

Nation Concerned Over Delinquency

Prevention and Treatment of Juvenile Delinquency tops a list of 40 major "areas of concern" reported by 45 states with committees preparing for the White House Conference to be held March 27 to April 20, in Washington. More than 2,000,000 persons are involved in preparatory work for this conference. Of the 45 states reporting, 39 named juvenile delinquency as of first concern. Nearing it were 32 states naming emotionally disturbed children, 29 naming retarded children, 25 naming religious and spiritual life of children, and 24 naming establishing ideals and values in children. Only 10 states named the effect of television on children.

By Garry Meyers

JUDGING FROM what the committees have been saying and writing, emotional disturbance will have first place among the alleged causes of juvenile delinquency, while self-control and effective parental control begun in the preschool years will take last place. Nor will there be, if I guess correctly, much if any emphasis on giving teachers more authority to control children in the classroom.

Parents of children 8 to 15 will probably be urged to establish some limits for these children and to stiffen up home control. Then thousands of such parents will be frustrated, wondering how they are going to carry out this advice, because so many of these children are beyond the bounds of parental control.

What will happen if the conference discusses parents' responsibility for the anti-social behavior of their children; such as vandalism?

MY GUESS is there will be a regiment of experts and leaders of PTA and other child welfare groups who will strongly object. They will declare that, if parents were fined or punished in other ways for vandalism by their children, desirable parent-child relations would be impaired.

Because many of the speakers and advisors at the White House Conference have been committed for years to the theory and practice of excessive permissiveness, and have led in spreading this theory and practice, we can hardly expect that they will emphasize early restraint of the tot as a means of preventing juvenile delinquency.

At the conferences that I attended, I heard not a word of this sort nor did I see a word about it in the published reports.

IN RECENT years, what have you read or heard at your local PTA or other community meetings about establishing home control of teen-agers by beginning effective control of them in childhood?

In the acres of print on prevention of juvenile delinquency, not an area the size of a little garden plot has considered effectively teaching the tot the meaning of NO. Millions of dollars to study juvenile delinquency — hardly a cent to study its earliest apparent source!

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Alcatraz Inmates Can Buy Candy First Time

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Alcatraz convicts this Christmas are being permitted to buy a 2-pound box of chocolate candy—for the first time in the 25-year history of the federal maximum security island prison.

Warden Paul J. Madigan said 200 of the San Francisco Bay prison's 260 inmates put up $2 and will receive the chocolates Christmas Eve. Alcatraz has no commissary for prisoner purchases.

Relaxed Muscles Ease Nervous Tension

Do you have that "I'm swamped" feeling? When tense and nervously tired, it is well nigh impossible to feel the heartwarming glow that gives meaning to Christmas. Perhaps you won't believe this and you may even be nettled at the idea, but if you will take 30 minutes out to let go your muscle tensions, you can experience a blessed release.

By Ida Jean Kair

The technique for relaxing calls for deliberate tensing of various muscle groups, followed by a systematic "letting go" of the tightness — let the tension ease out. It may strike you as odd that deliberate tightening of an already tense muscle could bring release. The explanation is this: When you are not aware of the tension, you have less conscious control.

CONTRACT THE muscle, sense the tension, then deliberately let go. By this method, you take over with conscious control.

You can practice relaxing sitting in a chair, and quietly letting go of the various muscle groups. However, it is more restful to lie on your back and close your eyes.

You may like to have a folded towel or soft pillow under the bend of your knees, and perhaps under each arm. Start with the forehead and furrow your brow —feel the tightness. Then let go the tightness and feel your brow smooth out, gently.

Elevate your eyebrows, and let go. Tense your jaw, clenching your teeth together. Now let the jaw go loose, feel the muscles of your mouth relax, relax your tongue. At ease!

To release the neck muscles, pull your head forward off the soft pillow, then just let your head forward off the soft pillow, then just let your head drop back, limply. Hunch your shoulders up around your ears ... and let them go. Ah ... wonderful, your face, neck, and shoulders feel relaxed and released.

Clench both fists and tighten your arms, but not your body. Hold with fists and arms and then let the tension ease out, clear to the fingertips. Repeat. Take a deep breath and slowly exhale, to relax the chest. You may need to take two or three deep breaths, and exhale slowly.

Tense the muscles of the abdomen, tightly ... and let go. Straighten legs at knees and pull toes toward instep to tense thigh and leg muscles ... then let go. The muscles on the front of the body should continue to relax as you direct your attention to the back muscles.

DRAW THE TOP of your head back into the pillow — let go. Square your shoulders tightly and then — at ease. Arch the small of your back — and then let go with a feeling of complete release.

To shut off your mental pictures, let your mind dwell on something relaxing. I find the 23rd Psalm to be wonderfully relaxing.

You cannot "hurry" to relax. As you lie there, get the feeling that this lovely thirty minutes is all yours to be at peace. Do that and you will be.

The four major prophets of the Bible were Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekial and Daniel.

Nike Missiles For Cincinnati Area Arrives

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Nike missile, the first that will be installed for the air defense of a tri-state area around Cincinnati, has arrived at battery site near Felicity in Clermont County.

The Felicity base is one of four that will be armed with 18 of the Nike missiles. The others are at Wilmington and Oxford, Ohio, and Dillsboro, Ind. All four batteries are expected to be armed by late January.

The first Nike to arrive was the Hercules but all four batteries will have both the Hercules and the smaller Ajax.

The weapons are designed to bring down manned bombers or "air breathing" missiles rather than ballistic missiles.

Lt. Col. Charles Arvin, commander of the Fifth Missile Battalion, said the Nike is capable of carrying nuclear warheads but he wouldn't say whether the ones installed in this area would be nuclear-tipped.

No Nike ever will be fired from the bases here unless there is an attack but men stationed at the batteries will do some practice work—raising it to firing position against imaginary enemies.

The Nike Zeus, the nation's anti-ballistic weapon, still is in the process of development but officers said it isn't likely it ever will be installed in this area.

Asked whether the Nikes here might be obsolete even before they are installed, Col. Arvin said, "only if you assume that all manned aircraft are immediately going to be obsolete."

Each of the four batteries can operate independently although they are under the control of the battalion commander at Wilmington. And once the Nike is fired there is a device by which it can be exploded if it suddenly turns out the approaching aircraft is friendly.

Q. What is this new way of building?

A. Chrysler Corporation's virtually trouble-free version of unit construction. Body and undersills are joined in a single unit of enormous strength, locked by close to 5400 welds. In Dura-Quiet Unibody, there is no frame and no conventional body bolts, struts, braces, etc., to loosen and rattle.

Q. What about power and performance?

A. There's the new 30-D Economy Six, a new "inclined" six that delivers outstanding economy in normal driving. The standard V-8 is the Fury V-800 which three times in a row topped its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Or you may choose the extra-cost SonoRamic Commando V-8.

If you ask us, this is the best built, best performing low-price car of all. Give it a real try soon, won't you?

A. Chrysler Corporation's virtually trouble-free version of unit construction. Body and undersills are joined in a single unit of enormous strength, locked by close to 5400 welds. In Dura-Quiet Unibody, there is no frame and no conventional body bolts, struts, braces, etc., to loosen and rattle.

Q. What about power and performance?

A. There's the new 30-D Economy Six, a new "inclined" six that delivers outstanding economy in normal driving. The standard V-8 is the Fury V-800 which three times in a row topped its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Or you may choose the extra-cost SonoRamic Commando V-8.

If you ask us, this is the best built, best performing low-price car of all. Give it a real try soon, won't you?

McAuliffe Replied 'Nuts' And Won Lasting Fame

Fifteen years ago today, U. S. Gen. Anthony McAuliffe gave the nation a lift when he replied "Nuts" to a German surrender demand during the Battle of the Bulge. Hal Boyle, who tells of the incident in his column today, covered the battle as an Associated Press war correspondent.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifteen years ago today a U.S. brigadier general became the first soldier in history to win military immortality with a four-letter word.

The word was "Nuts!" and the man who said it—and later came to hate the word—now feels it changed his whole life.

This bit of American slang, delivered as a defiant reply to a German surrender demand, infuriated a Nazi army. It set the Allied world rocking with laughter and pride.

Today it is still the best remembered symbol of the greatest engagement fought by American troops in World War II —the Battle of the Bulge in Belgium.

The battle, personally planned by Adolf Hitler in a last-ditch gamble, began at 5 a.m.. Dec. 16, 1944, with a bombardment by 1,900 German artillery pieces.

The acting commander, Anthony (Old Crock) McAuliffe and the 101st Airborne Division were rushed by truck to Bastogne. There, strongly supported by elements of the U.S. 9th and 10th Armored Divisions, McAuliffe held the vital Belgium road center against frantic German breakthrough efforts.

The enemy couldn't bypass him. They had to destroy his force to go on. And if they couldn't go on their cause was lost.

It was a bloody battle fought in a frigid hell. The U.S. forces cheerfully gave the map code name "Merry Christmas" to the 20-square mile area they held that blocked the gigantic German advance.

By Dec. 22, McAuliffe and his 10,000 men were surrounded by seven Nazi divisions and outnumbered four to one.

Through the morning gloom four German soldiers carrying a white flag trudged up to an outpost three miles south of Bastogne.

They carried a message which said in part: "The fortune of war is changing. There is only one possibility to save the encircled U.S.A. troops from total annihilation. That is the honorable surrender of the encircled town."

"If this proposal should be rejected, one German artillery corps and six heavy battalions are ready to annihilate the U.S.A. troops in and near Bastogne."

The four Germans, blindfolded by their own truce flag, were handed McAuliffe's quickly scrawled reply: "To the German commander Nuts! The American Commander."

When one of the Germans who spoke English complained he didn't understand the message, he was told it meant "go to hell." He said he understood this, and the four were blindfolded again and led away.

The battle raged on for more than four days and four nights until an armored column from Gen. George Patton's 3rd broke thought and lifted the siege.

"Old Crockk," a square-jawed, 5-foot-5 soldier who weighed only 135 pounds, performed heroically before and after the Bastogne siege. After the war he rose steadily in the service until he retired in 1956 as a full general commanding the U.S. Army in Europe. He is now a vice president of the American Cyanamid Co.

Although over the years he had to tell the Bastogne story so often he shuddered when anyone at a cocktail party passed the nuts, he now is reconciled to the word "nuts!"

A modest man, he feels it was his spur-of-the-moment choice of this odd one-word classic answer that helped send him later up the Army ladder.

At the time of the Bastogne siege he wore a brigadier's star, but his permanent rank was that of colonel.

Last week, mellow, handsome and graying at 61, "Tony" McAuliffe philosophically told a reunion at the overseas Press Club here: "Except for the word 'nuts' I'd probably have been known only as a competent combat colonel. Sometimes you have to have more than competence—you have to have a bit of luck."

Then, paying tribute to the troops under him who halted the baffled German tide in the snow at Bastogne 15 years ago, he said: "All you can do as a commander is to put the men out there I and hope they'll do their stuff. They are the ones."

Burglary Suspect Held For Grand Jury Action

LISBON — Joy F. Johnson Jr., 21, of Middleton pleaded guilty to a Nov. 13 burglary Monday before Judge Earl Spalding in Eastern District Court at East Palestine and was bound over to the Grand Jury under $1,000 bond. He is in the County Jail.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said Johnson and a 16-year-old Leetonia boy broke into a building at Kelly's Park Roller Rink east of Leetonia and took an acetylene burning outfit, a paint spraying outfit and an electric saw.

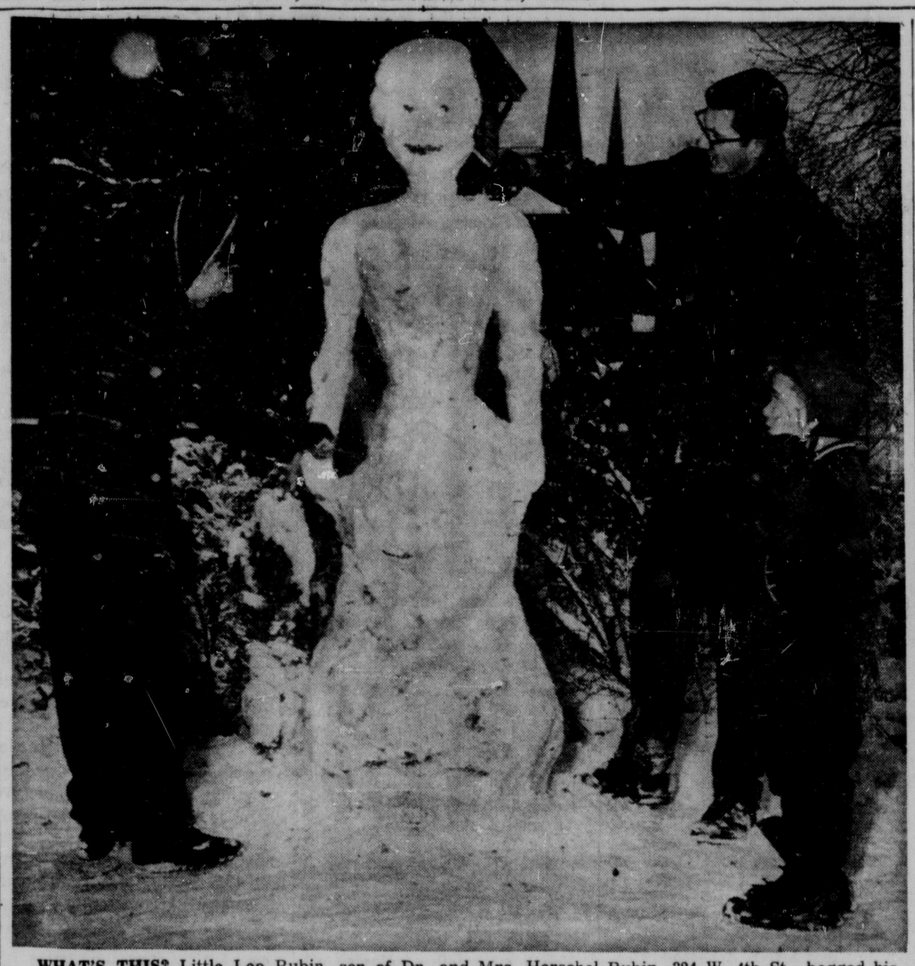
One juvenile appeared yesterday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin and was ordered sent to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster, for an indefinite period.

Deputies apprehended the two last week after they attempted to sell the burning outfit. All the stolen material was recovered.

Car Fire Reported

SALINEVILLE — A fire in the car of an unidentified motorist was extinguished Monday afternoon before firemen were required. An alarm was phoned about 4:30, followed immediately by another report that firemen need not make the trip to the site on Jefferson St. near the St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Thirty-one states have passed boat numbering laws in the wake of the Federal Boating Act of 1958.



WHAT'S THIS? Little Lee Rubin, son of Dr. and Mrs. Herschel Rubin, 324 W. 4th St., begged his sister, Elsa Ann Rubin, and Gene Kiernan, to build him a snowman Monday afternoon. After seeing the Brigitte Bardot creation that resulted, he seemed a little puzzled by it all.

Stark Native Chosen New 4-H Director

LISBON — Joe Burger, 24, a native of Stark County, will be Columbiana County's next extension agent for 4-H work, subject to approval of Ohio State University's Board of Trustees.

His application was accepted by the county extension advisory committee and the County 4-H Council here Monday night in the extension office.

Burger took his apprentice training here in 1957 while a senior in the College of Agriculture at OSU. He has been 4-H agent at Hamilton, Butler County, for the past year. A replacement must be found for him before he comes here.

He was presented last night by C. A. Haas of Columbus, extension supervisor for Northeastern Ohio.

The county 4-H post has been vacant since Oct. 1 when Albert Pugh, extension agent for agriculture, went to Portage County. Agent Don Myers, formerly in charge of 4-H work, assumed Pugh's duties.

OK's Power Legislation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Suburban Lyndhurst councilmen passed legislation Monday night requiring that any new power lines of 33,000 volts or more must be underground. The ordinance is patterned on legislation passed in neighboring Euclid, which went all the way to the Ohio Supreme Court to win legal support for its ordinance.

Car In Motel Holdup Discovered In Sharon

LISBON — One getaway car used in the $650 armed robbery of Barnett's Motel Dec. 11 was found abandoned Monday in Sharon, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports.

Under the back seat was a license plate stolen in Salem the night of the robbery.

A suspect, James Harold Maras, 20, Warren is in the County Jail under $10,000 bond awaiting Grand Jury action next month.

Armed robbery charges also were filed against his brother, Edmond Maras, 30, Newton Falls, and Charles F. Harris, alias James Miller, 38, of Warren.

The sheriff said he plans to request the help of the FBI this week in the search for the pair.

Christmas Party Held For Parochial School

Christmas sketches by pupils of the six grades of the Immaculate Conception Parochial school of Wellsville marked the Christmas party given by the Knights of Columbus and Confraternity of Christian Mothers Friday afternoon in the school auditorium.

The program was directed by Sister Frances De Sales, Sister James Marie and Miss Theresa Soidano. Santa Claus presented a sock and popcorn ball to each of the 120 children. The committee, consisting of Mrs. Madge Miller, Mrs. Connie Weeda, Mrs. Virginia Crea, Mrs. Dorothy Zelasko, Mrs. Martha Luckino, Mrs. Martha McCuen and Mrs. Sadie Surace, served lunch.

The largest flower in the world is the Rafflesia Arnoldi of Sumatra. It is three and one-half feet in diameter, and weighs about fifteen pounds.

HE KNOWS HUMAN NATURE:

A newspaperboy meets people as they are—all kinds of them. He soon learns to judge individuals, to recognize strong points, to spot weaknesses and to make allowances for them. This is an educational feature which schools are unable to teach—but it is a talent once obtained, is never lost.

HE LEARNS RESPONSIBILITY:

A newspaperboy is in business for himself. He must and does learn to operate that business as efficiently as do the great corporations. That's why many famous business men are former newspaperboys.

HE MEETS OBSTACLES HEAD-ON:

A newspaperboy acquires the ability to ignore obstacles. Rain, snow, heat, cold, do not slow him much. He delivers—yes he delivers his newspapers to his subscribers despite obstacles—thus he becomes strong of character, dependable, and self-reliant.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Lucy Bows Out Of TV For Broadway

In the mind's eye of the public, television and Lucille Ball go together like bacon and eggs, fish and tackle, a horse and carriage. To see Lucy is to see television, but next season the image threatens to dissolve.

Marie Torre

After a 10-year stretch in the pressure factories of television, Lucy is turning in the cue cards. She seeks a long repreve, a full season, at least, for time is essential for what she wants to do. It's a Broadway show.

THOUGH HER television career has been in the dreamiest tradition of the American success story, it is obvious that the prospect of Broadway fills her with greater emotion than the sweet sorrow of parting with TV after all these years.

"Rise or fall," says Lucy, "I've got to try my wings. I've got to move on. And, sister, I'm moving —after May 1, when I'll be through with my TV work."

She'll be going East with two stage vehicles from which to choose, one called "The Big Blonde," to be produced by Kermit Bloomgarden, the other "a big musical" out of the creative stable of Sammy Cahn and Jimmy van Heusen.

Whichever it'll be, it'll be her first stage show and she admits that opening night jitters have already set in, even at this early date. ("I'm scared to death!")

IT GOES without saying that the comedienne will leave a large void at Desilu Productions, where she's been preoccupied these last two years with the development of the Desilu Workshop, perhaps the only practical workshop to come out of television.

The fruits of her labors will be on view to television audiences Christmas night, when the 16 young performers handpicked by Lucy will be presented in the "Desilu Revue."

"Since word got out about my workshop," said Lucy, "I've had offers from networks to develop workshops for them, but mine keeps me busy enough.

"Sure I'll miss the workshop. It's a satisfying thing. But I've given two years of my time and my heart to the kids, and you can't do everything for them.

"The objective of the workshop was to provide a stepping stone for young, talented performers. I think we achieved this."

And what about Desi?

"Well, somebody," said Lucy, "has to mind the shop."

THOUGH COLOR TV is having its best sales year in 1959, set prices are not likely to be reduced next year, even if 1960 proves to be a banner year for tinted sets. Rising production costs, says RCA, will preclude a decline in prices in the near future. . . .

"The Four of Us" on the Jan. 29 "Telephone Hour" will include Ethel Merman, Beatrice Lillie, Ray Bolger and Benny Goodman. . . .

At the risk of being tarred and feathered, aren't the TV logs excessively heavy with Yule shows this season? More so than usual, we mean. . . .

Her health restored, Jane Froman returns to TV activity next month with appearances on "The Telephone Hour" Jan. 1 and "The Arthur Murray Show" Jan. 5. . . .

Biggest thing in reruns, according to the educated guesses of the rating services, is Phil Silvers' "Bilko" series.

AS IF TELEVISION doesn't have enough trouble, a Texas senator now threatens to sponsor legislation to outlaw "bad words" on TV and radio. What stirred his (Sen. David Ratliff's) ire was the "Startime" presentation of "My Three Angels" the other night.

Said the senator about the show: "It taught murder and profanity to millions of innocent young Americans right in their own living rooms. The arrogance and utter disregard of decency on the part of television networks must not go unchallenged."

Porter To Ask Abolishment Of Bridge Unit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. J. Sherman Porter (D-Gallipolis) says he will ask the next General Assembly to abolish the Ohio Bridge Commission and do away with tolls on the General U.S. Grant Bridge at Portsmouth.

The General Grant, which spans the Ohio River, is the state's only remaining toll bridge. It is also known as the Portsmouth-Fullerton Bridge.

It was purchased by the state from the Portsmouth -Fullerton Bridge Co. in 1957 for $3,125,000. The purchase was made from 3½ million dollars' worth of revenue bonds issued by the Bridge Commission. The bonds are to be retired by 1978. Interest will run an estimated $1,958,800.

Porter said he has two reasons for seeking abolishment of the commission and freeing the bridge from toll:

1. Cost of maintaining commission offices here (annual rental, $3,100).

2. Efforts of Portsmouth area civic leaders to have the bridge freed of toll prior to its purchase by the commission.

The commission meets monthly. Its three members, who each draw $2,000 a year, are appointed by the governor. Present members are Stanley Slee of Steubenville, and G. Andrews Espey and Arthur W. Collins, both of Cincinnati.

The commission's three-member office staff draws a total salary of $14,400 a year. The 14 men the commission employs on the General Grant Bridge draw annual salaries totaling about $71,000. The latter employes include 12 toll collectors, a maintenance man and a bridge manager.

Republic Plans Full Christmas, New Year's Work

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. says it will operate its basic steelmaking facilities here at full production schedules Christmas Day and New Year's Day.

Usually Christmas is observed with a reduced work force. But, a company spokesman said Monday night, "we must maintain top production as long as possible to meet the tremendous demand for steel from our customers."

The spokesman said he didn't know how many men would be scheduled for Christmas Day work, but indicated it would be more than half those usually given the day off.

Other steel companies in the Cleveland-Lorain district planned to continue past custom and reduce operations on Christmas Day.

The current United Steelworkers' contract provides that Republic employes working Christmas receive 2¼ times their regular wage. The company said the average per man would be $56 for the day.

The record number of stolen bases for one season in major league baseball was established in 1915 by Ty Cobb of the Detroit Tigers who stole 96 bases.

Mourners Troop By Bier Of Last Civil War Veteran

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Mourners trooped slowly by the bier of Civil War veteran Walter Williams by the thousands today.

The body of the 117 - year - old soldier of the South lay in state in the Civil Courts Building a second day—the last survivor of the five million members of the Blue and the Gray who took part in the great conflict.

Flags dipped to half - staff across the land. Texas and Georgia observed memorial days in his honor.

A military procession escorts the body Wednesday morning through downtown streets to the South Main Baptist church for funeral services. Dr. E. H. Westmoreland, pastor, will officate.

At the church will be a group dressed in Union blue. The Mount Vernon, Ohio, Sons of Union Veterans Fife and Drums Corps will render the one - time forage master's favorite melodies—"Dixie," "The Yellow Rose of Texas," and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

Then U.S. 4th Army and Texas state highway patrol units will escort the body to the country cemetery at Franklin, Tex., for military rites.

Williams died Saturday. His doctor said he apparently had beaten back his fourth attack of pneumonia since summer, only to succumb of old-age complications.

The praying mantis is the only insect that can turn its head around as we do.

Ohio GOP Executive Committee To Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Republican State Central and Executive Committee will meet here Jan. 6 to decide on national convention delegates and map strategy for the 1960 election campaigns.

Ray C. Bliss, GOP state chairman, announced that the luncheon session will be held in the Neil House.

The 46-member committee also is expected to settle the question of a favorite son to head the 56-vote delegation to the July convention in Chicago unless Presidential candidates decide to enter the Ohio primary by that time.

DiSalle Picks 9 Scholarship Fund Trustees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has appointed trustees of the Ohio Scholarship Fund, created by the Legislature to aid deserving college students.

If individuals, organizations and other governmental units contribute 1½ million dollars, DiSalle said, the state expects to put in $500,000. Interest from the invested money should provide about 1,000 scholarships for trustees to assign, DiSalle estimated.

Three trustees named for terms ending Dec. 20, 1960, are: Leonard Ratner of Cleveland, director and vice president of the Jewish Community Federation; Paul Gingher of Columbus, attorney and president of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, and Murray Lincoln of Columbus, head of Nationwide Insurance Companies and the Nationwide Corp.

Three trustees appointed for terms ending in 1962 are: President Raymond A. Roesch, of the University of Dayton, Dan DeHays, member of the Columbus Board of Education and an official of the Ohio Independent Telephone Assn., and Ralph McDonald, president of Bowling Green State University.

Three trustees appointed for terms ending in 1961 are: Orville Jones of Columbus, educational director for the Ohio AFL-CIO council; Dr. John McDonough, Youngstown, surgeon, and Joseph Cole of Cleveland, president of the National Key Co.

All nine appointments are subject to Senate confirmation.

Fuel Oil Is Spilled As Truck Overturns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three thousand gallons of fuel oil were spilled into the intersection of Miller Road and Ohio 611 at Avon when a tank truck overturned early today.

Driver Richard De Mars of Canton said one of the double trailer cars jack-knifed as he applied brakes to make a right turn into Miller Road. He was uninjured.

The Avon Fire Department spent two hours washing the oil away and dumping absorbent sand into the area.

Yule Party Scheduled Tonight For VFW Post

Santa Claus will distribute toys and treats. Refreshments will be served and entertainment will be provided.

The date of a party for underprivileged children will be announced later. The post plans to distribute baskets of food to needy families.

The birthplace of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States was at the Old Christ Church in Philadelphia. The services were attended by 15 signers of the U. S. Declaration of Independence.

2 Killed, One Ohioan Killed In Pike Mishap

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Robert Roach, 30, of Akron, Ohio, suffered a shoulder injury in an accident on the Pennsylvania Turnpike that killed two people and injured one other person Monday. Dead are Jacob Groendal, 66, and his wife, Helen, of Detroit, Mich.

Lucy Bows Out Of TV For Broadway

In the mind's eye of the public, television and Lucille Ball go together like bacon and eggs, fish and tackle, a horse and carriage. To see Lucy is to see television, but next season the image threatens to dissolve.

Marie Torre

After a 10-year stretch in the pressure factories of television, Lucy is turning in the cue cards. She seeks a long repreve, a full season, at least, for time is essential for what she wants to do. It's a Broadway show.

THOUGH HER television career has been in the dreamiest tradition of the American success story, it is obvious that the prospect of Broadway fills her with greater emotion than the sweet sorrow of parting with TV after all these years.

"Rise or fall," says Lucy, "I've got to try my wings. I've got to move on. And, sister, I'm moving—after May 1, when I'll be through with my TV work."

She'll be going East with two stage vehicles from which to choose, one called "The Big Blonde," to be produced by Kermit Bloomgarden, the other "a big musical" out of the creative stable of Sammy Cahn and Jimmy van Heusen.

Whichever it'll be, it'll be her first stage show and she admits that opening night jitters have already set in, even at this early date. ("I'm scared to death!")

IT GOES without saying that the comedienne will leave a large void at Desilu Productions, where she's been preoccupied these last two years with the development of the Desilu Workshop, perhaps the only practical workshop to come out of television.

The fruits of her labors will be on view to television audiences Christmas night, when the 16 young performers handpicked by Lucy will be presented in the "Desilu Revue."

"Since word got out about my workshop," said Lucy, "I've had offers from networks to develop workshops for them, but mine keeps me busy enough.

"Sure I'll miss the workshop. It's a satisfying thing. But I've given two years of my time and my heart to the kids, and you can't do everything for them.

"The objective of the workshop was to provide a stepping stone for young, talented performers. I think we achieved this."

And what about Desi?

THOUGH COLOR TV is having its best sales year in 1959, set prices are not likely to be reduced next year, even if 1960 proves to be a banner year for tinted sets. Rising production costs, says RCA, will preclude a decline in prices in the near future. . . .

"The Four of Us" on the Jan. 29 "Telephone Hour" will include Ethel Merman, Beatrice Lillie, Ray Bolger and Benny Goodman. . . .

At the risk of being tarred and feathered, aren't the TV logs excessively heavy with Yule shows this season? More so than usual, we mean. . . .

Her health restored, Jane Froman returns to TV activity next month with appearances on "The Telephone Hour" Jan. 1 and "The Arthur Murray Show" Jan. 5. . . .

Biggest thing in reruns, according to the educated guesses of the rating services, is Phil Silvers' "Bilko" series.

AS IF TELEVISION doesn't have enough trouble, a Texas senator now threatens to sponsor legislation to outlaw "bad words" on TV and radio. What stirred his (Sen. David Ratliff's) ire was the "Startime" presentation of "My Three Angels" the other night.

Said the senator about the show: "It taught murder and profanity to millions of innocent young Americans right in their own living rooms. The arrogance and utter disregard of decency on the part of television networks must not go unchallenged."

Porter To Ask Abolishment Of Bridge Unit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. J. Sherman Porter (D-Gallipolis) says he will ask the next General Assembly to abolish the Ohio Bridge Commission and do away with tolls on the General U.S. Grant Bridge at Portsmouth.

The General Grant, which spans the Ohio River, is the state's only remaining toll bridge. It is also known as the Portsmouth-Fullerton Bridge.

It was purchased by the state from the Portsmouth-Fullerton Bridge Co. in 1957 for $3,125,000. The purchase was made from 3½ million dollars' worth of revenue bonds issued by the Bridge Commission. The bonds are to be retired by 1978. Interest will run an estimated $1,958,800.

Porter said he has two reasons for seeking abolishment of the commission and freeing the bridge from toll:

1. Cost of maintaining commission offices here (annual rental, $3,100).

2. Efforts of Portsmouth area civic leaders to have the bridge freed of toll prior to its purchase by the commission.

The commission meets monthly. Its three members, who each draw $2,000 a year, are appointed by the governor. Present members are Stanley Slee of Steubenville, and G. Andrews Espey and Arthur W. Collins, both of Cincinnati.

The commission's three-member office staff draws a total salary of $14,400 a year. The 14 men the commission employs on the General Grant Bridge draw annual salaries totaling about $71,000. The latter employes include 12 toll collectors, a maintenance man and a bridge manager.

Republic Plans Full Christmas, New Year's Work

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. says it will operate its basic steelmaking facilities here at full production schedules Christmas Day and New Year's Day.

Usually Christmas is observed with a reduced work force. But, a company spokesman said Monday night, "we must maintain top production as long as possible to meet the tremendous demand for steel from our customers."

The spokesman said he didn't know how many men would be scheduled for Christmas Day work, but indicated it would be more than half those usually given the day off.

Other steel companies in the Cleveland-Lorain district planned to continue past custom and reduce operations on Christmas Day.

The current United Steelworkers' contract provides that Republic employes working Christmas receive 2¼ times their regular wage. The company said the average per man would be $56 for the day.

The record number of stolen bases for one season in major league baseball was established in 1915 by Ty Cobb of the Detroit Tigers who stole 96 bases.

Mourners Troop By Bier Of Last Civil War Veteran

The body of the 117 - year - old soldier of the South lay in state in the Civil Courts Building a second day—the last survivor of the five million members of the Blue and the Gray who took part in the great conflict.

Flags dipped to half - staff across the land. Texas and Georgia observed memorial days in his honor.

A military procession escorts the body Wednesday morning through downtown streets to the South Main Baptist church for funeral services. Dr. E. H. Westmoreland, pastor, will officate.

At the church will be a group dressed in Union blue. The Mount Vernon, Ohio, Sons of Union Veterans Fife and Drums Corps will render the one - time forage master's favorite melodies—"Dixie," "The Yellow Rose of Texas," and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

Then U.S. 4th Army and Texas state highway patrol units will escort the body to the country cemetery at Franklin, Tex., for military rites.

Williams died Saturday. His doctor said he apparently had beaten back his fourth attack of pneumonia since summer, only to succumb of old-age complications.

Ohio GOP Executive Committee To Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Republican State Central and Executive Committee will meet here Jan. 6 to decide on national convention delegates and map strategy for the 1960 election campaigns.

Ray C. Bliss, GOP state chairman, announced that the luncheon session will be held in the Neil House.

The 46-member committee also is expected to settle the question of a favorite son to head the 56-vote delegation to the July convention in Chicago unless Presidential candidates decide to enter the Ohio primary by that time.

DiSalle Picks 9 Scholarship Fund Trustees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has appointed trustees of the Ohio Scholarship Fund, created by the Legislature to aid deserving college students.

If individuals, organizations and other governmental units contribute 1½ million dollars, DiSalle said, the state expects to put in $500,000. Interest from the invested money should provide about 1,000 scholarships for trustees to assign, DiSalle estimated.

Three trustees named for terms ending Dec. 20, 1960, are: Leonard Ratner of Cleveland, director and vice president of the Jewish Community Federation; Paul Gingher of Columbus, attorney and president of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, and Murray Lincoln of Columbus, head of Nationwide Insurance Companies and the Nationwide Corp.

Three trustees appointed for terms ending in 1962 are: President Raymond A. Roesch, of the University of Dayton, Dan DeHays, member of the Columbus Board of Education and an official of the Ohio Independent Telephone Assn., and Ralph McDonald, president of Bowling Green State University.

Three trustees appointed for terms ending in 1961 are: Orville Jones of Columbus, educational director for the Ohio AFL-CIO council; Dr. John McDonough, Youngstown, surgeon, and Joseph Cole of Cleveland, president of the National Key Co.

All nine appointments are subject to Senate confirmation.

Yule Party Scheduled Tonight For VFW Post

Santa Claus will distribute toys and treats. Refreshments will be served and entertainment will be provided.

The date of a party for underprivileged children will be announced later. The post plans to distribute baskets of food to needy families.

The birthplace of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States was at the Old Christ Church in Philadelphia. The services were attended by 15 signers of the U. S. Declaration of Independence.

Fuel Oil Is Spilled As Truck Overturns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three thousand gallons of fuel oil were spilled into the intersection of Miller Road and Ohio 611 at Avon when a tank truck overturned early today.

Driver Richard De Mars of Canton said one of the double trailer cars jack-knifed as he applied brakes to make a right turn into Miller Road. He was uninjured.

The Avon Fire Department spent two hours washing the oil away and dumping absorbent sand into the area.

2 Killed, One Ohioan Killed In Pike Mishap

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Robert Roach, 30, of Akron, Ohio, suffered a shoulder injury in an accident on the Pennsylvania Turnpike that killed two people and injured one other person Monday. Dead are Jacob Groendal, 66, and his wife, Helen, of Detroit, Mich.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A few months ago we lost our only daughter in a car accident. She was a beautiful girl, 18 and in college. Lee's closest friend was her cousin, Midge. They used to trade clothes back and forth regularly.

My husband and I felt Midge ought to have all Lee's lovely things as we couldn't bear to give them to strangers. A few weeks ago we packed everything and sent it to Midge's mother.

We learned yesterday all the clothes were given to a charity organization. The story was "they didn't fit."

We know this is not possible since the girls traded clothes for years. I feel like telling the whole bunch off. My husband says I shouldn't mention it. Your advice will be appreciated.—HURT.

Dear Hurt: Don't mention it. Midge probably couldn't bear to wear Lee's clothes because of the strong emotional ties. In my opinion the family did what was best for Midge.

'Happy Labor Day'

Dear Ann: We've been married 23 years and our family is grown. Three years ago we bought a four-family apartment as an investment and hired a maintenance man. After two months my husband let the man go and said he could do the job in a few hours a day.

There turned out to be more work than he thought so he quit his steady job to do part-time TV repair work. Every day he goes to the roller skating rink with the young folks, to a movie or has a friendly game of cards with the firemen. I'm left to tend the furnace, wash windows, carry out the trash and take care of the tenants' complaints.

Last year I thought he'd show his appreciation by giving me a nice Christmas gift. He said "Merry Christmas" and gave me a peck on the cheek. If he does it again this year what shall I do? I think he's playing me for a fool. — TIRED.

Dear Tired: "Merry Christmas" indeed. Tell him 'Happy Labor Day" and to get back to work at his steady job and hire a maintenance man because you just quit.

Any woman who would pinch-hit as a janitor for a four-family apartment while her husband goes roller skating and to the movies must have oatmeal where her brains belong.

Marvelous Shrimp

Dear Ann: I would like to say a word to Mrs. Experienced—the woman who is so miserable because she married "a homely little shrimp." And this goes for the thousands of women who secretly (and openly) feel they could have done better.

Could it be that SHE is on the homely side herself — maybe fat and sloppy? I'll bet if that little shrimp thought HE could have done better, he would have.

These women who let you know they married "beneath themselves" usually have a vastly exaggerated opinion of what they have to offer.

From what I've seen, they're lucky to have found a man who'd have them. No first-rate woman chops her husband down behind his back.—HAPPILY MARRIED TO A HOMELY BUT MARVELOUS LITTLE SHRIMP.

(AP)-

Dear Happily Married: To your words of wisdom I can add only, "Amen" and my thanks for having written.

Confidentially

CONFIDENTIAL: To all you teen-age gals who raised the roof because I said 15 was soon enough for nylons and heels: Okay, kids, times have changed—14 gets my blessings if you behave like ladies! (Haven't had so many teen-age blasts since I knocked Kookie!)

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Regular Check Recommended On Credits For Social Security

While the Social Security Administration has been given the responsibility for maintaining approximately 126 million earnings records, William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown District office of the agency, pointed out today that it is the responsibility of each individual Social Security card-holder to check his record periodically to make sure it is correct.

McCauley added that a working person should check his Social Security record at least once every 3 years. In most instances the records of the Social Security Administration become final and not open to adjustment after the statute of limitations has expired.

This statute makes most records final after 3 years, 3 months and 15 days from the end of the calendar year for which the earnings were reported. The sooner an error is found, the easier it will be to correct it. This applies to everyone whether he is working in his own business or for someone else as an employe.

It should be pointed out, McCauley said, that the manner of checking a particular record is relatively simple for an individual. Just ask your Social Security office for postcard form 7004, fill in the blanks and drop it in a mail box.

The form is a self - addressed postcard. In a few weeks you will receive a statement showing the total recorded earnings credited to your Social Security account. It also will show a yearly breakdown of your credited earnings for each of the past 3 full calendar years. Since self-employed people report only once a year, this statement will not show their self - employment income for 1958 and 1957. If, after receiving this statement, an error is noticed, get in touch with your Social Security office immediately.

Student Receives Chicago Diploma

Jack Doughty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Doughty, 1606 Globe St., was graduated Dec. 14 from George Williams College at Chicago with a degree in health and physical education.

A 1954 graduate of East Liverpool High School, he was the recipient of the Bill Booth Memorial Award in 1953. He was affiliated with the Alpha Onison Fraternity of the college and Lamba Chi Alpha, a national fraternity.

While in school he performed with "The Four Winds," a vocal quartet which traveled for appearances throughout the eastern states and Canada and made several recordings. He was director of physical education activities at Hyde Park Boys Club for two years. He worked the last 3 summers for the local YMCA and was director at Pine Ridge Camp.

He has accepted a position at the YMCA at Battle Creek, Mich., as program secretary, supervising the physical education department.

His wife is the former Lois Ann Thornberry. They have a 4-month old son, Timothy Jack.

Elyria Approves Trustees' Plan On Annex, Fire House

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Elyria City Council has approved a proposal from the trustees of the estate of William C. Ely, the city's founder, for a City Hall annex and a $270,000 central fire station.

Under the plan, the city will lease property for the annex on Broad St. from the trustees for $18,000 a year on a 10-year contract. In return, trustees will renovate the property for $75,000 and pay an amount equal to the rent—$18,000—to enable the city to pay off construction bonds on the fire station.

By using the City Hall annex property, the city will be able to consolidate its offices which now are in three different buildings.

Housewives Get Warning About Deceptive Ads

WASHINGTON (AP)—A housewife who would like to earn a few dollars at home is a favorite target of deceptive employment advertising, a spokesman for the Association of Better Business Bureaus said today.

Edwin M. Lockard, who is also general manager of the Baltimore Better Business Bureau, spoke today from a statement prepared for a Federal Trade Commission Conference on Deceptive Advertising.

He cited promotional matter put out by a Baltimore firm speaking of "numerous affiliations" with businesses needing envelopes addressed and chances to earn "$35 or more per week for a few hours a night." Women were asked for two dollars "to cover cost of mailing, listing and registration."

Bureau investigation, Lockard said, disclosed that the advertiser was a newly formed company which could not prove it had work to offer. After a postal investigation, the firm went out of business and the Post Office returned to the senders the letters with the fee, Lockard said.

The FTC concludes today a two-day session for representatives of 47 consumers, civic and other organizations, seeking to strengthen defenses against misleading advertising and other deceptive sales practices.

Father-Daughter Team Suspected In Holdup

NEW YORK (AP) — Detectives believe a father - daughter team may have pulled a bold $5,600 theft on a busy New York street Monday.

Catherine Bacon, 62, a bookkeeper, was carrying the money to a bank in a paper bag when a girl of about 8 snatched it from her and ran. Miss Bacon screamed. A passer-by caught the youngster.

There was a scuffle and the girl escaped, the sack falling to the sidewalk. Bills spilled out.

A man appeared and said: "Let me help you." He picked up the scattered money — then ran in the direction opposite to that taken by the girl.

Columbus Police Hold Man In Fatal Shooting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A man identified by police as Jerry Cantrell was being held for questioning in the fatal shooting of George F. Atkins, 33, of Columbus.

A man fired four rifle shots into Atkins' back Monday night in an East Side bar. Atkins was dead on arrival at Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

Following the shooting, police said, Cantrell jumped into the Olentangy River. He was pulled out and taken to University Hospital.

Gets Cold Reaction

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A plan to install an ice skating rink in this city's Memorial Auditorium at an estimated cost of $125,000 got a cold reaction from city councilmen Monday night. By a 12-3 vote they turned down proposals to spend $3,500 for preliminary plans and designs.

Frantic Mother Heaves Sigh Of Relief—Son Too

Where was the 5-year-old son? The harried mother frantically started searching. She found him in the department where bathroom fixtures are displayed.

The mother gave a sigh of relief—so did the boy.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A few months ago we lost our only daughter in a car accident. She was a beautiful girl, 18 and in college. Lee's closest friend was her cousin, Midge. They used to trade clothes back and forth regularly.

My husband and I felt Midge ought to have all Lee's lovely things as we couldn't bear to give them to strangers. A few weeks ago we packed everything and sent it to Midge's mother.

We learned yesterday all the clothes were given to a charity organization. The story was "they didn't fit."

We know this is not possible since the girls traded clothes for years. I feel like telling the whole bunch off. My husband says I shouldn't mention it. Your advice will be appreciated.—HURT.

Dear Hurt: Don't mention it. Midge probably couldn't bear to wear Lee's clothes because of the strong emotional ties. In my opinion the family did what was best for Midge.

'Happy Labor Day'

Dear Ann: We've been married 23 years and our family is grown. Three years ago we bought a four-family apartment as an investment and hired a maintenance man. After two months my husband let the man go and said he could do the job in a few hours a day.

There turned out to be more work than he thought so he quit his steady job to do part-time TV repair work. Every day he goes to the roller skating rink with the young folks, to a movie or has a friendly game of cards with the firemen. I'm left to tend the furnace, wash windows, carry out the trash and take care of the tenants' complaints.

Last year I thought he'd show his appreciation by giving me a nice Christmas gift. He said "Merry Christmas" and gave me a peck on the cheek. If he does it again this year what shall I do? I think he's playing me for a fool. —TIRED.

Dear Tired: "Merry Christmas" indeed. Tell him "Happy Labor Day" and to get back to work at his steady job and hire a maintenance man because you just quit.

Any woman who would pinch-hit as a janitor for a four-family apartment while her husband goes roller skating and to the movies must have oatmeal where her brains belong.

Marvelous Shrimp

Dear Ann: I would like to say a word to Mrs. Experienced—the woman who is so miserable because she married "a homely little shrimp." And this goes for the thousands of women who secretly (and openly) feel they could have done better.

Could it be that SHE is on the homely side herself — maybe fat and sloppy? I'll bet if that little shrimp thought HE could have done better, he would have.

From what I've seen, they're lucky to have found a man who'd have them. No first-rate woman chops her husband down behind his back.—HAPPILY MARRIED TO A HOMELY BUT MARVELOUS LITTLE SHRIMP.

Dear Happily Married: To your words of wisdom I can add only, "Amen" and my thanks for having written.

Confidentially

CONFIDENTIAL: To all you teen-age gals who raised the roof because I said 15 was soon enough for nylons and heels: Okay, kids, times have changed—14 gets my blessings if you behave like ladies! (Haven't had so many teen-age blasts since I knocked Kookie!)

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Regular Check Recommended On Credits For Social Security

While the Social Security Administration has been given the responsibility for maintaining approximately 126 million earnings records, William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown District office of the agency, pointed out today that it is the responsibility of each individual Social Security card-holder to check his record periodically to make sure it is correct.

McCauley added that a working person should check his Social Security record at least once every 3 years. In most instances the records of the Social Security Administration become final and not open to adjustment after the statute of limitations has expired.

This statute makes most records final after 3 years, 3 months and 15 days from the end of the calendar year for which the earnings were reported. The sooner an error is found, the easier it will be to correct it. This applies to everyone whether he is working in his own business or for someone else as an employe.

It should be pointed out, McCauley said, that the manner of checking a particular record is relatively simple for an individual. Just ask your Social Security office for postcard form 7004, fill in the blanks and drop it in a mail box.

The form is a self - addressed postcard. In a few weeks you will receive a statement showing the total recorded earnings credited to your Social Security account. It also will show a yearly breakdown of your credited earnings for each of the past 3 full calendar years. Since self-employed people report only once a year, this statement will not show their self - employment income for 1958 and 1957. If, after receiving this statement, an error is noticed, get in touch with your Social Security office immediately.

McCauley stressed that Social Security benefits depend on the record of earnings.

Pay Old Fines, Motorist Told In Drunk Case

A North Side man who pleaded guilty today to the third drunken driving charge in five years was warned by Municipal Judge George L Brokaw to settle up for unpaid portions of the fines from the 2 previous cases in addition to the penalty of $300 and costs for the latest charge.

Raymond Adkins, 52, of 1006 Huston Ave., who had pleaded not guilty at arraignment Dec. 17, switched his plea when he appeared for a hearing this morning. He also had been charged with leaving the scene of an accident, but the court dismissed the second case on a motion from Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark.

Because Adkins has been arrested twice in 1959 for drunken driving, he will lose his operator's permit regardless under Ohio's 12-point demerit system, the solicitor told the court. Both drunken driving hit-skip offenses count for 6 points in the "point system."

Adkins was represented by Atty. George A. Aronson, who formally entered the change of plea. Adkins was cited as the aftermath of a collision early Dec. 17 on Bradshaw Ave. at Ravine St. in which his car and two parked autos were damaged. Police said he failed to halt at the scene but was taken into custody a few minutes later at the garage at his home.

Court records show he was penalized on similar charges June 8, 1955, and March 9, 1959.

When imposing sentence, Judge Brokaw commented that Adkins has not paid the full amount due in fines in the two previous cases. He also gave Adkins the customary 10-day jail term and 6-month suspension of his driver's license, although he said "the license will go by the boards in any event."

In pronouncing the jail sentence, the court said Adkins "will stand committed until the fine and costs are paid or you are otherwise legally discharged."

City Man Due Hearing For Looting Of Auto

A city man is scheduled for a hearing Saturday before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester in connection with the theft of tools and clothing from the auto of a Johnstonville area man.

Arliss Glenn Streets, 23, of 116 Church Alley, is charged with stealing mechanic's tools, a suit and three pairs of men's trousers from the auto of Harold D. Underwood of near Chester.

However, Streets is presently serving a term in Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland for traffic violations.

The articles stolen from the car were valued at about $200 by the Chester area man, authorities said.

Christmas Party Held For Courthouse Staff

Edward Patzsch of Wellsville, evangelist and courthouse custodian, led singing of carols and read the Christmas story from St. Luke. Approximately 50 persons attended.

The courthouse will colse at noon Thursday and not reopen until Monday morning. The same arrangement will be followed next week for the New Year's holiday.

Ankara was chosen as capital of Turkey because the climate is drier and more invigorating than the damp heat of Istanbul's summers.

Chlorination Contract Let

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners signed a contract Monday with Horton's pump Service of Columbiana to furnish and install a chlorinating system at the County Home.

Horton's bid was $3,200. H. M. Ellyson & Son of the Ohio Pump Co., both of Salem, bid $3,224 and $3,244 respectively.

Commissioners said the chlorinator will be located in the milk house and that water used in all departments at the home will be treated.

Horton said he will deduct $300 if the county digs and backfills the ditch for the new pipe.

Water samples taken at the home last October by County Sanitarian Harry Stockdale were found "unsafe" on analysis by the State Department of Health. Repairs were made immediately to eliminate the danger of surface drainage and the installation of a chlorinator will guarantee a safe water supply, commissioners said.

Commissioners also opened bids yesterday on a 1960 Chevrolet Biscayne 2-door sedan for the sheriff's department and accepted a $1,572.96 proposal from Brittain Motors, Inc., of East Palestine. Brittain accepted a 1956 Plymouth 2-door sedan in trade.

Wboley Chevrolet, Leetonia, bid $1,636.52; Lewis Chevrolet, Lisbon, $1,774; Parker Chevrolet, Salem, $1,800, and Mike Turk, Inc., East Liverpool, $1,950.

Salem Man Gets State Position

SALEM — A local builders supply firm owner is one of nine men appointed by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to a committee to advise the new Department of Industrial and Economic Development on publicity activities.

Raymond Lowry, owner of the Salem Builders Supply Co., was appointed to the advisory committee. Others named were Jesse Gallagher of Cleveland, director of the AFL-CIO's Region 9; Ora E. Anderson of Columbus, secretary of the Ohio Bankers Assn.; Robert C. Kienton of Cleveland, vice president of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.; Harold K. Schellenger of Columbus, executive director of the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges; Ray Ross of Springfield, director of the United Auto Workers' Region 2-A; Harold F. Stotzer of Archbald, partner in a hardware firm and former Fulton County state representative; John Johns of Canton, director of the United States Workers' District 27, and Norris H. Olsen of Columbus executive vice president of the Plaskolite Firm.

Contractor Begins Sewer Relocation

Work was launched officially Monday on an $80,000 project for the first phase of relocation of the Carpenters Run trunk line sanitary sewer, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today.

Although no excavating work has been done, Sikora Bros. Excavating Co. of Poland moved in heavy equipment and office furniture, preparing to establish a headquarters and turn over the first earth in the vicinity of the sewage treatment plant, the director said.

Sikora submitted the low bid when offers were opened in late October.

The work will begin at the sewage treatment plant and move gradually to the northwestern end of the relocation in California Hollow. The sewer now empties into the river but as part of the relocation it will be tied into the treatment plant at the rear of Westgate School.

Judge Peck Again Plan To Circulate Petitions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Judge John W. Peck of the Ohio Supreme Court said today he will recirculate petitions to qualify for the Democratic nomination in the May 3 primary election for the unexpired court term ending Jan. 2, 1965.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle appointed Peck to the high court vacancy created by the death of Judge James G. Stewart, Cincinnati Republican. The appointment used the full name of John Weld Peck. Petitions circulated recently by Peck also used his full name.

Peck said statute requires a candidate who has changed. his name, within 10 years of filing, to disclose that fact in his petitions.

Peck has held both elective and appointive offices under the name John W. Peck, and said he wanted to avoid the possibility of a technical violation of an election law.

Peck has been a Common Pleas judge in Hamilton County, state tax commissioner and executive secretary to former Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now a U.S. senator.

Cranmer Case Dropped

LISBON—Judge Joel H. Sharp today granted Mayor-Elect Dean B. Cranmer's motion for discharge of an embezzlement indictment returned in September 1957 when he was mayor. Cranmer sought release of the charge because he has gone untried for more than three terms of court. He was tried in October 1957 and the jury could not agree on a verdict.

Morse Steps Into Race For President Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) stepped into the race for the Democratic nomination for president today with an announcement that his name will go before Oregon voters in the state's May 20 presidential preference primary.

"Although I would have preferred not to have entered in the Oregon race, I shall not run away from a good political fight if it is inevitable," Morse said in a statement.

Morse, 59, who has been elected to the Senate both as a Republican and as a Democrat, said that his political supporters are entering him in the Oregon primary against his wishes.

He said Democrats in the district of Columbia also have urged him to enter the May 3 presidential primary here, and that he will decide later whether to do so.

"I am sure that most professional politicians who usually are in control of political conventions would suffer political nightmares if my name were placed on the district primary ballot," Morse said.

Job Mishaps Injure 2 Men

Wilmer Pugh, 28, of Chester R. D. 1 was treated for a fracture of the finger suffered when a wrench slipped as he was working on a car Sunday.

Calcutta Firemen To Treat Children

Youngsters residing in the area served by the Calcutta fire department will be given treats from 7:30 to 10:30 in the fire hall.

Ruth Lister's band will provide music, while students from Bill Cassidy's Dance Studio will perform. Santa Claus (Cliff Dunn) will be present. Only children through the eighth grade may attend.

Midland Continues Streak And Ends Aliquippa's At 4

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Minus two regulars but paced by the outstanding shooting and rebounding of senior Steve Yetso, the Midland Leopards chalked up their seventh straight exhibition success with a 49-37 victory over Aliquippa Monday night.

Although the weather held some of the fans back, about 900 watched the Leopards extend their flawless record on the Midland floor and at the same time snap Aliquippa's string at four.

Gene Lake, the star of previous Midland victories, missed his third straight game but is recovering from the flu. Carl Anderson, the consistent cager who has been an important cog in the victory string, was ruled ineligible this week because of low scholastic marks.

However, Yetso, who stands 6-foot-3, turned in his top game of the campaign. He tossed in 20 points to finish as the top scorer in the contest.

The Leopards jumped off to an 11-7 lead at the end of the first period and never were headed. By halftime Midland had rolled up a 26-15 lead, then moved out in front 38-23 after three periods.

Silverman was next to Yetso in the rebounding department, playing a brilliant board game and at the same time dropping in 12 points.

Silverman has been used in previous contests and has always responded with dependable performances, and last night was no different.

Aliquippa seemed to be pointing its defense at big Movie Smith who still managed to break through for 10 points, but when he wasn't scoring Yetso was there to pick up the slack.

Aliquippa led only once in the opening minutes of the contest. The visitors grabbed a 3-2 lead but Silverman cashed in on two fouls that put Midland in front to stay at 4-3.

Smith scored six of his 10 points in the second period and Silverman added five more to stake the Leopards to a 26-15 halftime lead.

In the third period, Aliquippa came within 10 points of the high flying Leopards but failed to get any closer as Midland took a 38-23 advantage after three quarters.

Yetso had his best eight minutes in the last period when he dropped in eight points. The only place where he was off last night was at the foul line with only four conversions out of 11 tries.

The Leopards have several big tests coming up beginning at New Castle Saturday. Next week on Dec. 28-29 Midland will take part in the Ford City tournament, then meet East Liverpool at home on Jan. 2.

Midland led most of the way, showing a 22-17 edge at halftime but Aliquippa tied the count at 30-30 after three periods and then pulled away in the final eight minutes.

Lucas Hits For 32 Points

Utah Snaps Ohio State's Win Streak At Six Games

By The Associated Press

Ohio State's third-ranked Buckeyes were handed their first defeat in seven games Monday night at Salt Lake City as the Utah Redskins, No. 6 choice in the nation, came off with a 97-92 victory.

Big Jerry Lucas retained some of the Ohio glory as he won the heralded sophomore scoring duel with Utah's 6-foot-9 Billy McGill. The 6-8 Lucas tallied 32 points, one more than McGill.

The Redskins, who notched their seventh in a row without a defeat, ran up a 10-point lead early and held it through much of the first half, which ended 49-44.

Utah opened an even wider margin in the second half and appeared headed for an easy win until Lucas, Larry Siegfried and Joe Roberts teamed up to trim the gap to two points, 77-75, with a little more than five minutes left.

The Redskins, however, added a little to the lead and then started freezing the ball.

Ohio teams broke even in a big doubleheader at Fort Wayne, Ind. Miami of Florida won its first game from Miami of Ohio in four tries, dumping the Oxford Redskins 83-78 in the opener, and Xavier nipped The Citadel 94-91 in the finale.

Although it was a neutral floor for all of the teams, the high-point man for the night felt right at home. The Florida school's little (5-foot-6) Dick Hickox, who played on the coliseum court while attending Fort Wayne North Side High School, poured in 28 points to lead the Hurricanes to their win. Vern Lawson had 20 to top the Redskins (2-5).

Xavier, beaten only once in six starts, never had a comfortable lead over The Citadel and trailed 47-46 at the half. Jack Thobe paced Musketeer scoring with 24 points. Art Musselman, another Hoosier, had an equal total for the losers, who feature a raft of Ohio-bred players too.

In the only other games on the Ohio card, Akron, hitting on 56 per cent of its shots from the field, swamped Kent State 93-68, and Transylvania of Lexington, Ky., weathered a late Ohio Wesleyan rally to edge the Bishops 73-71.

Cincy U. Faces Major Test In Bradley Quint

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati's Bearcats are rated the No. 1 college basketball team in the nation in the first Associated Press poll and already they're running into a "crooshial" game.

The high-scoring Bearcats, unbeaten in five starts and averaging better than 100 points a game, but heads tonight with Bradley, unbeaten in six games and rated No. 5 in the nation.

And as has been the case since Oscar Robertson moved from Indiana high school stardom to UCN there will be no point in showing up tonight at the Cincinnati Armory-Fieldhouse if you don't already have a ticket. All UC home games are sold out so there will be a capacity crowd of around 8,000.

For the last two years the Braves from Bradley have been the only Missouri Valley Conference team to beat UC—each time on Bradley's home floor.

Tonight's game will be the MVC opener. League games are of major importance since the conference champion goes to the NCAA tournament.

It's the individual field goal record of 761 set by Cleo Littleton of Wichita from 1951 to 1955. Robertson needs only three field goals to reach that mark.

Robertson's record will come in just slightly more than two seasons of play while Littleton's was established in four seasons.

Midland, Quakers, Tigers Set Early Pace In District

Midland High's sizeable Leopards boast the lone unbeaten skein among the area's 17 high schools. The Leopards are 7-0 after hurdling Aliquippa last night.

Wellsville (4-1) lost its opening game to Midland, but since has begun to shape into a contender for sectional honors. How strong the Tigers actually are will be determined Jan. 29 in a home battle with Salem. But home dates with Toronto Jan. 8 and Steubenville Central Jan. 9 also will serve as a measuring stick.

Leetonia (2-1) is led by veteran Lee Radler who scored 40 points recently, missing a school record by a mere foul conversion. Surprising Salineville and Stanton Local — both 4-2 for the year—are scheduled for a showdown battle Jan. 12 at Irondale.

United Local's defending county champions who reached the sectional finals in Canton last season, have been taking their knocks early this season. The Eagles are 3-2. They will perform in Class AA tourney competition this season, leaving Salineville and Fairfield-Waterford the right to meet for the county single-A title. United performed in last year's tourney but made the jump to Class AA ball this year.

Wellsville's Bob Kiggans, 6-3 junior whiz, shows an average of 19.6 with 98 in five games. His best night so far was a 26-point burst against Northwest of Portage County. Kiggans twice scored 23 points in single games.

Rich Ashcroft of South Side has collected 109 points for the season, with 30 coming in a record-breaking performance against Northwestern. Ashcroft's average is 18.1.

Chester Shoots For No. 3

5 Games Set In District

Chester will go after its third straight victory in four games when the Panthers entertain South Side tonight and Newell will travel to Beaver Local.

These two contests feature a five-game schedule for district teams tonight.

Coach Max Tuttle's Panthers, with only one regular back from last season, have been a surprise in the last two games, coming up with victories over New Cumberland and Rochester. The Panthers dropped their opener to Beaver.

Newell, a loser in each of its four starts this season, faces Coach Jack Frontone's Beaver Local forces. The Beavers are also starved for a victory, having dropped their last three games.

Elsewhere, United goes after win No. 4 at Leetonia. The Bears will put a 2-1 record on the line.

New Cumberland, with a 3-3 mark, entertains Brilliant and the strong Salem Quakers play host to East Palestine.

Twyman Has Slight Edge In Scoring Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping Jack Twyman and his soft one-handed push shot are running ahead of towring Wilt Chamberlain in the National Basketball Assn. individual scoring race.

Twyman, the nucleus of a weak Royals' team, likely will be the first NBA player to pop in 1,000 points this season. He has 987 for a 30.8 average, league statistics released today show.

Twyman now leads the 7-1 Chamberlain, who has played in five less games, by 30 points. The Stilt, however, is averaging 35.4 points a game.

Defending scoring champion Bob Pettit jumped three notches to third place by scoring 118 points in four games last week. The St. Louis star now has 870 points and a 27.4 average.

The Celtics' Sam Jones is the field goal percentage leader with a .531 mark while teammate Bob

Cleveland Handed First Industrial Loop Loss

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Tagged Monday night with its first loss of the season, Cleveland can retain its National Industrial Basketball League lead for another week only by repulsing a challenge from second-place Seattle.

Denver, last year's champion, dropped its fifth straight Monday night since winning its opener. The loss was to Wichita 85-83. The winners held Denver's George Bon Salle to 16 points, but he retains his league scoring lead with 161 in six games for a 26.8 average.

Bucs Trade Ron Kline For Cimoli And Hurler

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fans took a second look today at the Pittsburgh Pirate swap of a front line pitcher to the St. Louis Cardinals for a line-drive hitting outfielder and an unproven hurler and wondered if there's more to come.

Joe L. Brown, Pirate general manager, interrupted a Florida vacation Monday to trade right-hander Ron Kline for outfielder Gino Cimoli and pitcher Tom Cheney.

It was the first major player deal involving the Pirates since the 1959 season. It didn't produce the long ball hitter Pirate officials say is needed for the club to improve its 1959 fourth place finish.

Kline, from Callery, Pa., won 14 and lost 18 in 1956. Last season he posted an 11-13 record, losing several games by one run decisions.

Cimoli, a San Francisco resident, has never realized a .300 batting average since breaking into the majors in 1956.

Cimoli's best year was a .293 average in 1957. Last year he hit .279.

Cheney, of Morgan, Ga., spent most of last season in the minor league at Omaha. He posted a 5-6 record there. After being called up by the Cardinals late in the season he lost his only decision while appearing in 11 games.

Springfield's Big 3 Lead AHL Statistics

NEW YORK (AP)—Springfield's big three of Floyd Smith, Bill Sweeney and Art Stratton have the American Hockey League scoring statistics all to themselves today.

The trio rank 1-2-3 in scoring. Sweeney leads in goals with 19 and Stratton has the most assists with 33. But Smith is the top point scorer with 48 on 17 goals and 31 assists.

Sweeney has 44 points and Stratton 43.

Midland Continues Streak And Ends Aliquippa's At 4

Yetso Is Big Gun

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Minus two regulars but paced by the outstanding shooting and rebounding of senior Steve Yetso, the Midland Leopards chalked up their seventh straight exhibition success with a 49-37 victory over Aliquippa Monday night.

Although the weather held some of the fans back, about 900 watched the Leopards extend their flawless record on the Midland floor and at the same time snap Aliquippa's string at four.

Gene Lake, the star of previous Midland victories, missed his third straight game but is recovering from the flu. Carl Anderson, the consistent cager who has been an important cog in the victory string, was ruled ineligible this week because of low scholastic marks.

However, Yetso, who stands 6-foot-3, turned in his top game of the campaign. He tossed in 20 points to finish as the top scorer in the contest.

It was a battle of the undefeated with Aliquippa bringing a four-game winning streak to Midland.

The Leopards jumped off to an 11-7 lead at the end of the first period and never were headed. By halftime Midland had rolled up a 26-15 lead, then moved out in front 38-23 after three periods.

Yetso wasn't the whole show. Because of the two regulars being out, Coach George Hamilton had to go down his bench and call two substitutes.

Silverman was next to Yetso in the rebounding department, playing a brilliant board game and at the same time dropping in 12 points.

Silverman has been used in previous contests and has always responded with dependable performances, and last night was no different.

Krovishia tallied only two points but his ballhandling and defense were steady.

Aliquippa seemed to be pointing its defense at big Movie Smith who still managed to break through for 10 points, but when he wasn't scoring Yetso was there to pick up the slack.

Don Migliore, Midland's little playmaker, chipped in with five points for the evening and was a ballhawk on defense.

Only two Aliquippa starters gained the double figures with Clyde Evans and Gene Feher each collecting 10 points.

The Quips didn't floor the height to match Midland and were beaten badly on the backboards.

Aliquippa led only once in the opening minutes of the contest. The visitors grabbed a 3-2 lead but Silverman cashed in on two fouls that put Midland in front to stay at 4-3.

With Yetso and Silverman collecting four points each, Midland took an 11-7 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Smith scored six of his 10 points in the second period and Silverman added five more to stake the Leopards to a 26-15 halftime lead.

In the third period, Aliquippa came within 10 points of the high flying Leopards but failed to get any closer as Midland took a 38-23 advantage after three quarters.

Yetso had his best eight minutes in the last period when he dropped in eight points. The only place where he was off last night was at the foul line with only four conversions out of 11 tries.

Hamilton substituted freely in the final quarter with Midland enjoying as much as a 20-point lead.

The Leopards have several big tests coming up beginning at New Castle Saturday. Next week on Dec. 28-29 Midland will take part in the Ford City tournament, then meet East Liverpool at home on Jan. 2.

In the preliminary contest Monday night, the Midland reserves dropped their second start in seven games, 44-32, to the Aliquippa Jaycees.

Midland led most of the way, showing a 22-17 edge at halftime but Aliquippa tied the count at 30-30 after three periods and then pulled away in the final eight minutes.

Lucas Hits For 32 Points

Utah Snaps Ohio State's Win Streak At Six Games

By The Associated Press

Ohio State's third-ranked Buckeyes were handed their first defeat in seven games Monday night at Salt Lake City as the Utah Redskins, No. 6 choice in the nation, came off with a 97-92 victory.

Big Jerry Lucas retained some of the Ohio glory as he won the heralded sophomore scoring duel with Utah's 6-foot-9 Billy McGill. The 6-8 Lucas tallied 32 points, one more than McGill.

The Redskins, who notched their seventh in a row without a defeat, ran up a 10-point lead early and held it through much of the first half, which ended 49-44.

Utah opened an even wider margin in the second half and appeared headed for an easy win until Lucas, Larry Siegfried and Joe Roberts teamed up to trim the gap to two points, 77-75, with a little more than five minutes left.

The Redskins, however, added a little to the lead and then started freezing the ball.

Ohio teams broke even in a big doubleheader at Fort Wayne, Ind. Miami of Florida won its first game from Miami of Ohio in four tries, dumping the Oxford Redskins 83-78 in the opener, and Xavier nipped The Citadel 94-91 in the finale.

The holiday show was set up because all four teams have players from the Fort Wayne area.

Although it was a neutral floor for all of the teams, the high-point man for the night felt right at home. The Florida school's little (5-foot-6) Dick Hickox, who played on the coliseum court while attending Fort Wayne North Side High School, poured in 28 points to lead the Hurricanes to their win. Vern Lawson had 20 to top the Redskins (2-5).

Xavier, beaten only once in six starts, never had a comfortable lead over The Citadel and trailed 47-46 at the half. Jack Thobe paced Musketeer scoring with 24 points. Art Musselman, another Hoosier, had an equal total for the losers, who feature a raft of Ohio-bred players too.

In the only other games on the Ohio card, Akron, hitting on 56 per cent of its shots from the field, swamped Kent State 93-68, and Transylvania of Lexington, Ky., weathered a late Ohio Wesleyan rally to edge the Bishops 73-71.

Cincy U. Faces Major Test In Bradley Quint

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati's Bearcats are rated the No. 1 college basketball team in the nation in the first Associated Press poll and already they're running into a "crooshial" game.

The high-scoring Bearcats, unbeaten in five starts and averaging better than 100 points a game, but heads tonight with Bradley, unbeaten in six games and rated No. 5 in the nation.

And as has been the case since Oscar Robertson moved from Indiana high school stardom to UCN there will be no point in showing up tonight at the Cincinnati Armory-Fieldhouse if you don't already have a ticket. All UC home games are sold out so there will be a capacity crowd of around 8,000.

For the last two years the Braves from Bradley have been the only Missouri Valley Conference team to beat UC—each time on Bradley's home floor.

Tonight's game will be the MVC opener. League games are of major importance since the conference champion goes to the NCAA tournament.

It's the individual field goal record of 761 set by Cleo Littleton of Wichita from 1951 to 1955. Robertson needs only three field goals to reach that mark.

Robertson's record will come in just slightly more than two seasons of play while Littleton's was established in four seasons.

Midland, Quakers, Tigers Set Early Pace In District

Midland, Wellsville and Salem are the frontrunners in area basketball circles as most squads prepare to curtail regular season action until after the holiday vacation.

Midland High's sizeable Leopards boast the lone unbeaten skein among the area's 17 high schools. The Leopards are 7-0 after hurdling Aliquippa last night.

Wellsville (4-1) lost its opening game to Midland, but since has begun to shape into a contender for sectional honors. How strong the Tigers actually are will be determined Jan. 29 in a home battle with Salem. But home dates with Toronto Jan. 8 and Steubenville Central Jan. 9 also will serve as a measuring stick.

Salem, runner-up for the Ohio basketball title in 1958, got off on its regular season with a rousing 81-56 victory over Columbiana with veteran Dave Hunter pouring in 27 points.

Leetonia (2-1) is led by veteran Lee Radler who scored 40 points recently, missing a school record by a mere foul conversion. Surprising Salineville and Stanton Local — both 4-2 for the year—are scheduled for a showdown battle Jan. 12 at Irondale.

United Local's defending county champions who reached the sectional finals in Canton last season, have been taking their knocks early this season. The Eagles are 3-2. They will perform in Class AA tourney competition this season, leaving Salineville and Fairfield-Waterford the right to meet for the county single-A title. United performed in last year's tourney but made the jump to Class AA ball this year.

In individual performances, Leetonia's Radler leads the district point producers with 78 in three games for an average of 26.0.

Wellsville's Bob Kiggans, 6-3 junior whiz, shows an average of 19.6 with 98 in five games. His best night so far was a 26-point burst against Northwest of Portage County. Kiggans twice scored 23 points in single games.

Rich Ashcroft of South Side has collected 109 points for the season, with 30 coming in a record-breaking performance against Northwestern. Ashcroft's average is 18.1.

Chester Shoots For No. 3

5 Games Set In District

Chester will go after its third straight victory in four games when the Panthers entertain South Side tonight and Newell will travel to Beaver Local.

These two contests feature a five-game schedule for district teams tonight.

Coach Max Tuttle's Panthers, with only one regular back from last season, have been a surprise in the last two games, coming up with victories over New Cumberland and Rochester. The Panthers dropped their opener to Beaver.

South Side is batting .500 so far this season with a 3-3 mark.

Newell, a loser in each of its four starts this season, faces Coach Jack Frontone's Beaver Local forces. The Beavers are also starved for a victory, having dropped their last three games.

Elsewhere, United goes after win No. 4 at Leetonia. The Bears will put a 2-1 record on the line.

West Virginia Second, Ohio State Rated Third

By The Associated Press

Sports writers and broadcasters participating in the Associated Press' first weekly poll of the season, gave the Bearcats a wide margin over the rest of the field Monday, giving them 55 of the 120 first place votes. In the point score, the Bearcats received 956 points to 820 for runner-up West Virginia, which drew 30 first place votes.

Following the two pace setters were Ohio State, California, Bradley, Utah, St. Louis, Georgia Tech, Indiana and Illinois, in order. Six of the top ten are undefeated. Ohio State and Georgia Tech tasted defeat for the first time Monday night. The Buckeyes bowed to Utah 97-92 and the Engineers were beaten by SMU 80 71.

Cincinnati, averaging better than 100 points a game in five straight victories, meets fifth - ranked Bradley tonight before competing in the ECAC Holiday Festival in Madison Square Garden beginning Saturday. Other top ten teams scheduled tonight include seventh - ranked St. Louis (6-2) against Kansas, third-ranked Ohio State (6 - 1) vs Brigham Young, eighth - ranked Georgia Tech (6-1) vs. Texas Tech, and ninth-ranked Indiana (4-1) vs. Butler.

West Virginia (8-0) won't see action until it goes into the Los Angeles Holiday Festival next Monday but fourth-ranked California (5-0) has a big game against a strong Michigan State team Wednesday. Utah and Indiana also play Wednesday. The Utes will meet College of the Pacific and the Hoosiers will face Butler.

Favorites fell by the wayside in Monday night's action but 10th-ranked Illinois managed to keep its slate clean, nipping Oklahoma 60-57 in overtime. The biggest upset was perpetrated by Brigham Young which defeated Michigan State 79-75.

UCLA edged Minnesota 73-72, Wisconsin topped favored Stanford 61-60, Providence took a 62-60 decision from Santa Clara, Denver beat Michigan 71 - 65, Creighton won over Seattle 77-70 and Miami of Florida beat Miami of Ohio for the first time in four years, 83-78.

Utah, led by Billy (The Hill) McGill, led Ohio State all the way in racking up its seventh victory without a defeat. The sixth-ranked Redskins led at halftime 49-44. The 6,000 fans in the Ute Fieldhouse went wild as the 6-9 McGill scored 31 points. Scoring honors, however, went to Jerry Lucas of Ohio State. The 6-8 sophomore sensation netted 32 points.

Hoyt Wilhelm Wins In ERA

BOSTON (AP)—Hoyt Wilhelm, 36-year-old Baltimore knuckleballer, climaxed a brilliant pitching comeback in 1959 by winning the American League earned run title, the official averages released today showed.

Wilhelm yielded only 55 earned runs in 226 innings for an ERA of 2.19. Camilo Pascual of Washington was second with 2.64 followed by Bob Shaw of the Chicago White Sox, 2.69 and Art Ditmar, New York, 2.90.

Wilhelm is the first pitcher ever to lead in both the National and American Leagues. He topped the NL in 1952 with a 2.43 mark while relieving for the New York Giants. Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles switched him to starting roles late in the 1958 campaign and, although finishing with a 3-10 record, Hoyt hurled a no-run, no-hit game against the Yankees.

Early Wynn of the White Sox, another veteran right - hander, captured a large share of the pitching spoils. He won the most games, 22, pitched the most innings, 256 and tied Detroit's Paul Foytack for starting the most games, 37. Wynn also gave up the most bases on balls, 119.

Bob Shaw of Chicago won 18 games and lost only 6 for the best winning percentage, .750. Jim Bunning, Detroit's fireballer, led in three categories — strikeouts (201), home runs allowed (37) and total batsmen faced (942).

Pascual, who had a 17-10 won-lost record for his first "winner" in six big league seasons, set the pace in complete games with 17 and shutouts with six.

Bribe Charges Hurled At Pittsburgh Dentist

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A preliminary hearing was set for this afternoon for Dr. Edward H. Sebastian, Pittsburgh dentist charged with attempting to bribe two University of Pittsburgh basketball players.

Fridley and Falenski, both juniors, told university officials Dr. Sebastian offered them scholarships to Pitt's dental school, and to pay them 50 per cent of bet winnings if they would keep Pitt's victory margins within betwinning range.

Dr. Sebastian denied the charges, saying, "everything we discussed, he (Fridley) started."

The investigation began Dec. 11 when Fridley and Falenski, on the advice of their parents, reported to University Athletic Director Frank Carver that they were offered a bribe.

Fridley told detectives he met with Dr. Sebastion separately Dec. 3 and 9. He said Falenski was with him in a meeting Dec. 10, and that it was then Dr. Sebastion gave his pitch.

He "offered us the world—anything that came to his mind he said he'd get us—cars at cost and everything," Fridley said.

Falenski, who has been averaging 17 points a game, said:

"Our grades aren't up to snuff, but he said he'd fix everything—get us senatorial scholarships and guarantee we got into dental school."

Both players said they refused to have anything to do with the offer.

Colts Return For Practice

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts returned to the practice field after a two-day rest today to prepare for their National Football League championship game here Sunday with the New York Giants.

Everyone is giving opinions of making predictions. Joe Tereshinski, who scouted both teams for the Washington Redskins, got in the act Monday by rating the Colts a slight choice.

"Two things must be considered in making the Colts the favorites," said the former Redskin end. "Quarterback John Unitas needs a dry ball and a dry field, and the Baltimore fans with their whooping give the Colts an edge in their stadium."

The weatherman predicts a dry field, and there is no doubt the Colt fans will be on hand. Beside some 40,000 season ticket holders, 3,000 faithful stood in line most of Sunday night to gobble up 6,000 general admission tickets Monday morning. The rest of the tickets — some 11,000 — went to the Giants and other league teams.

Lucas Widens Lead In Big Ten Scoring

His closest challenger is John Tidwell of Michigan. Tidwell, on the strength of two 31-point performances, climbed into second place with 120 points in five games for a 24-point average.

Terry Dischinger of Purdue and Larry Siegfried of Ohio State are tied for third with 116 points each. Dischinger's came in five games for a 23.2 average while Siegfried has played seven games for a 16.5 average.

Coe Shoots 12-Under Par 59 For Record

Coe covered the 18 holes with 7 pars, 10 birdies and a lone eagle.

New Promoter Seeking License For Title Bout

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy Cohn was ready to make his big pitch today before the New York State Athletic Commission for a license to promote the return Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson heavyweight championship fight.

At the moment, Cohn has the field pretty much to himself. He has bought out Vincent Vellella's controlling interest in Rosensohn Enterprises, which holds the return bout contracts. He shelled out —with the help of his 10-man syndicate—$150,000 for the two-thirds interest.

He hopes to buy out Bill Rosensohn's other one-third interest before long.

"We talked about it yesterday," Rosensohn said, "and we may get together again today. We're not too far apart in price. It's possible the transaction will be completed soon."

One thing is certain: Cohn and Co. won't get a license today. The State Athletic Commission had its fingers burned in the aftermath of the first fight last June 26 in which Johansson won the crown.

If Cohn and his group are elected, they plan to stage the bout in the Yankee Stadium here in June. Humbert (Jack) Fugazy, who used to runs boxing shows in the 1920s, will be the promoter.

Fugazy, 72, is brimming with optimism.

"After our organization closes the stock deal with Rosensohn and gets a license from the commission," he enthused, "some of us may go over to Sweden and get things straightened out with Johansson. I think the rematch will draw $1,500,000 at the gate."

Cohn, is said to have been in touch by telephone by Edwin Ahlquist, Johansson's adviser. Johansson and Ahlquist have insisted the new promoter be beyond reproach and the commission undoubtedly will want to know if Cohn has the approval of the champion.

Texas' Swift Backs Might Mean Trouble

By JIM KOCH

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas' swift backs could give national champion Syracuse trouble in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day, says Hal Lahar, who came from Colgate in 1956 to coach the University of Houston.

However Lahar, host to Syracuse at its training site here, shied from any prediction of the outcome. Nor would he comment on the announced breakup of the Colgate-Syracuse rivalry, other than to call it "unfortunate."

Lahar saw little difference in Eastern and Southwest styles of play, particularly since the Southwest largely abandoned wide-open tactics about five years ago in favor of possession football.

"We seem to get a different-type boy down here," Lahar said. "They come rangy, big - boned, lean, not so heavily muscled as in the East."

Boys run all year in this snow-free climate, so it is no surprise when the Southwest Conference schools and Houston continually come up with fast backs.

Green Bay's Lombardi Named Coach Of Year

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Vinnie Lombardi, in his first year as head coach of the Green Bay Packers, today was voted coach of the year by National Football League writers in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 45-year-old tactician, who once served as Red Blaik's backfield coach at West Point, guided his team to a third-place tie in the Western Conference with seven victories against five defeats.

The little man with the build of a blacksmith steered his team to victories in its first three games. He was carried off the field by his players after their opening game triumph over the Chicago Bears.

Lombardi won in a landslide. He received 29 of the 37 votes cast with four votes going to Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants and two each going to Weeb Ewbank of Baltimore and Red Hickey of San Francisco. Ewbank earned the award last year.

Lombardi took over as coach and general manager of the Packers last winter after five years as offensive coach with the Giants. He succeeded Ray (Scooter) McLain as head coach and Verne Lewellen as general manager.

Lombardi, who first gained attention in football as a guard at Fordham and was one of the "seven blocks of granite" in Fordham's glory days, made a remarkable metamorphosis at Green Bay. He revamped the team almost completely, instilled morale and bouyed up the spirit.

He traded for or acquired eight players from rival teams. He installed five rookies, and picked up two veterans who returned from the service.

Paul Hornung found himself under Lombardi. After two seasons as quarterback and fullback, the former Notre Dame All-America was switched to left halfback and became the key to Green Bay's offense. He led the league in scoring with 94 points. Lombardi also established Jim Taylor, a second-year man from LSU, as his regular fullback. The youngster proved a devastating runner after recovering from an injury.
